

Inauguration ceremonies

Although there are only two new faces, the roles of the Romulus City Administration have changed and a new councilman has joined the line-up. District Judge Henry Zaborowski (from left) issued the Oath of Office Monday to Beverly McAnally, the city's first woman mayor, Linda Choate, a former deputy clerk, who will serve as clerk, John Lewkowicz, a former treasurer and council member now city treasurer, and to council members Mary Ann Banks, who, by virtue of receiving the most votes will serve as Mayor Pro Tem, Jimmie Raspberry, Pete Bergeron, Fred Junior Block, William Wadsworth, who won his first term to council, and Barry Baumann and Alan Lambert, both of whom were re-elected to their second term.

Local Briefs

Some 125 parents and students attended the presentation of Part II of the Chemical People which aired on Channel 56 on Nov. 9, at Romulus Senior High School.

Following the viewing of the program, a town meeting was moderated by Al Shelly, Director of Romulus Help Center, with panel members William Davenport, Juvenile Officer, Romulus Police Department; Al Wilkerson, Counselor, Romulus Senior High School; David Baker, Counselor, Romulus Help Center; Dr. Joseph Maceli, Toxicologist, Wayne State University; Terry Coatsworth, Student, Romulus High School; Ken Berlin, Vice-President, Romulus Board of Education.

Some of the questions raised by the audience were: "How can I tell if my child is using drugs?" "What can I do as a parent?" "How can we better educate students about the dangers of drugs?"

To find out more about what can be done and how you can help avoid substance abuse of your child or friend, plan to join the task force at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 17, at Wick Elementary School, 36900 Wick Road, Romulus, Michigan in the library. Everyone is welcome.

Interested Romulus residents who wish to contribute ideas—old and new—are urged to attend a meeting of the Michigan Week Festival Committee scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Mon., Nov. 21.

The meeting will be held in the Senior Citizens Drop-In Center.

"We need new and old ideas for our festival," noted Dennis Davidson, recreation director. "And we're extending an invitation to everyone to attend."

There is a wide range of activities planned this fall and winter for Romulus seniors. Senior coordinator Marilyn Masters says that ceramics, square dancing, choral singing, bingo, knitting crocheting, macrame, flower arrangements and quilting are just a few of the programs.

Any residents who is 50 and over is welcomed to attend the programs. You need not join a club to participate, recreation officials stress.

For more details, contact the recreation department.

McAnally sworn in as mayor

Vowing that she would dedicate herself and her office "to the progress of our city" and that her goal would be to provide "safety for all of our citizens" and "development according to the Master Plan", Beverly McAnally launched her first term as Mayor of Romulus.

In her inaugural address to the citizens of Romulus Monday afternoon, Mayor McAnally pointed out that "the wounds and injuries, so often inflicted during political campaigns, were minimal. The examination of the issues and direction that should be pursued by our city have been extensive."

Mrs. McAnally, the fifth person—the first woman—to reign as Mayor of Romulus, was administered the Oath of Office by 34th District Judge Henry Zaborowski. The ceremony and the mayor's Inaugural Address climaxed a host of activities that included the installation of new city officers and members of the city council.

Mrs. McAnally won a stunning victory over three-term mayor, William Oakley, last week. She won the office by more than 500 votes.

The city will have new officers in both the clerk's and treasurer's office. Returning to the Clerk's Office, but his time as clerk is Linda Choate, who served as a deputy clerk three years ago. The city treasurer is John Lewkowicz, former treasurer who lost to McAnally five years ago. Lewkowicz has been a member of city council for the past two years.

The City Council make-up includes: Fred Junior Block, a seventh-term councilman; Jim-

A new beginning

There was a standing room only crowd on hand Monday to witness the Inauguration Ceremonies of Beverly McAnally, the first woman to hold the post as Mayor of Romulus. Mayor McAnally pledged to the citizens of the city that she would bring progress, keep the streets safe and devote her life for the betterment of the community.

Fiscal fears

Schools regroup after defeat

The Romulus Board of Education will meet Monday evening to determine what direction it will need to go now that their request for additional millage has failed for a fourth time.

Board President Daniel R. Bales issued a statement in which he said, "We worked very hard on this millage campaign. We had dozens of meetings and mailed out many items of information."

"It is disheartening to know that despite all this effort, 2,000 people voted yes; 3,000 people voted no, and 5,000 people didn't bother to vote at all."

"As a Board, I feel we have met all our obligation to let our community know what their choices were. We are now going to do everything we can to run this school district within the limits of our income, but I seriously doubt that we'll be able to do that over the next twelve month period."

The millage request defeat has left the board with a number of difficult decisions.

'...As a board, I feel we have met all our obligations to let our community know what their choices were. We are now going to do everything we can to run this school district within the limits of our income.'

Daniel R. Bales,
Board president

Bales pointed out that "employee morale throughout the district is at an all time low. All non-teaching employees are half-way through their fourth year without a pay increase of any kind, and the feeling around the board office is that some type of pay adjustments, no matter how minimal, must be given."

The teacher rollback question is also a difficult problem and negotiations there are not going well, Bales said.

The auditorium at Romulus Senior High School has been ruined because the roof is leaking so badly. Two elementary schools are in danger of being eroded away because of severe leaky roofs, and in addition, the school buses must be replaced or the State will "red tag" as many as one-fourth of the buses over the next two years.

Dr. William M. Bedell, Superintendent of Schools, confirmed Bales's analysis.

"The board seems to have two choices: One is to continue the leaky roofs, poor buses, freezes and rollbacks, and wait for the State Police to remove our buses or a labor strike to close the district or the other is to attempt to spend as normally as possible, get reasonable settlements, buy some needed buses, and then close the doors when the money's gone."

Special police double drunk driving arrests

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

In the first week of a Wayne County "drunk patrol" program, the number of drunk driving arrests has doubled in Belleville and Sumpter Township.

"We made seven arrests in Belleville the first two nights we had cars out," reported Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter last Thursday. "Usually, we just have one or two arrests in a weekend."

In Sumpter Township, the specially designated patrol cars made two arrests the first weekend in operation — "a 100 percent improvement for us," said Corporal Wanda Elden, who coordinates the program for Sumpter police.

Sumpter Police Chief Clinton Brown said, "Some weekends we don't have any arrests, and it's not because the drunk drivers aren't out there. Until now, we haven't had the resources to concentrate on looking for them."

Both Elden and Brown pointed out that a recent fatality in Sumpter Township underscored the need for the intensified surveillance. On November 4, John Rufus Peay, a New Boston High School student, was killed in an auto accident on Haggerty Road near Arkona. Police said that the 17-year-old driver of the car and the five passengers had been drinking.

The Wayne County task force is funded by a one-year, $400,000 grant from the state Office of Highway Safety and Planning. The purpose of the grant—which may be renewed after the first year—is to reduce the number of alcohol related accidents.

Participating police forces operate under a flexible "go-where-needed-most" philosophy, explained Dockter, Western Wayne County Coordinator for the task force.

"Last week, we spent Thursday and Friday in Belleville and Saturday in Romulus. This can change from week to week," he said.

"We provide the state police with alcohol-related accident information from our area," Dockter said. "In turn, they put this together and give us printouts of target or high risk areas."

As one of four program coordinators, Dockter is authorized to determine patrol spots in the immediate area. He emphasized that the program would not "lock-in" the designated police cars.

"For example, say there's a fireman's convention at one of the airport hotels. We might send out all our patrol cars that way Saturday night, anticipating that those guys will do a lot of drinking."

Bike path work is race against winter

by EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

Impatient to get a bike path completed before winter settles in, the Belleville City Council voted to pay for the path out of its own pockets rather than draw upon federal grant funds.

Council members agreed at their November 7 meeting to spend $7,735 in general fund money to build the path that will extend from Sumpter and David to South Junior High.

Construction begins this week, according to City Manager

Frank Pascarella. "We should have this thing complete in just a few days — hopefully before winter comes to stay," he said.

Originally, council members planned to use federal block grant funds to pay for most of the construction. But plans ran into a snag when the city awarded the bid for the 1,900 foot path to American Asphalt Paving of Romulus.

Wayne County Community Development Block Grant officials told the city that the grant money couldn't be used unless construction workers were paid union wages. American Asphalt Paving workers didn't qualify under those stipulations, the block grant officials said.

American Asphalt's bid was the lowest received, according to Pascarella.

"To get the funding, we'd have to go through the whole bidding process all over again. We couldn't get the path built before this winter," Pascarella said.

"We might have a delay of up to two years if we waited. We want to see that path being used," Pascarella said.

While available to anyone, the six-foot wide path is primarily for the convenience of South Junior High students. Students living within a mile of the school (and thus not eligible for school bus transportation) must now either walk or bike down the shoulder of Sumpter Road.

The path will probably also be used as a walkway, Pascarella said.

In other developments at the meeting, council members discussed taking action on the abandoned Belleville Community Hospital building on Main Street.

Pascarella informed the council he would ask the city attorney to check into the possibility of tearing down the structure, which closed its doors in 1975.

Council members also approved an amendment to a zoning ordinance regulating the senior citizen housing unit to be built on West Columbia.

The amendment added 14 additional parking spaces as well as sprinklers in each of the 108 units. Construction on the $5 million senior complex will begin next spring, say city officials.

Looking on are (left) Melissa Sowder, senior class president, and Carol Wisniewski, sophomore president, and Belleville High teacher and sponsor Bruce Green. The junior class earned the money during the month long contest, where students and their families were awarded points (10 points, Big Mac, 3 points, soft drink) when they made a purchase from the Belleville Road McDonalds. The juniors' score was 10220 points, compared with 9557 (seniors) and 2012 (sophomores.). Pass the ketchup . . .

'Strong nation needs strong schools'

Van Buren invites residents to return to the classrooms

"A Strong Nation Needs Strong Public Schools," is the theme of this year's American Education Week.

AEW was begun in 1921 by the American Legion and the National Education Association, organizations which sought to encourage local support and active citizen participation in the improvement of education.

AEW is now sponsored nationally by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers National Education Association, National School Boards Association, The American Legion, and the United States Department of Education.

Along with the Van Buren School Board, Administration and other school employees, the Van Buren Education Association will play a vital role in celebrating AEW.

Van Buren and Belleville community leaders are being invited to school by the VBEA. The program called "I've Been Back to School," is designed to acquaint community leaders with the real world of today's classroom.

These leaders from various walks of life will be invited to participate in a day-long program that will feature a sponsor teacher working side-by-side with the citizen in classroom activities.

"I've Been Back to School," is scheduled for November 17, as part of AEW.

Mayor, council sworn in

mie Raspberry, a six-term veteran, Mary Ann Banks, who, by virtue of receiving the greatest number of votes cast in the recent election, retains the title of Mayor Pro Tem.

Joining the three legislators are second-term councilmen Peter Bergeron, Barry Baumann and Alan Lambert and newly-elected William Wadsworth, Jr.

All successful candidates took part in Monday's Inaugural Ceremony staged before a standing room capacity crowd in the City Council Chambers at City Hall.

The council's first meeting is scheduled for Tues., November 22 at 8 p.m.

Here is the complete text of Mayor Beverly McAnally's inaugural speech to City Council and the citizens of Romulus.

Pastors, reverends, fellow elected officials, honored guests, family, friends and supporters: thank you for joining us today as we observe this final step on the elective process; that of inauguration. This rite is heavy with symbolism, steered in tradition and as ancient in its origins as human kind.

Inauguration is to dedicate ceremoniously the beginning of new leadership.

It is also a ceremony in which we, who have been elected, dedicate ourselves in service to our community and before God, swear to uphold our laws.

During the months past, we have all worked very hard to win election, our friends and families have given generously of themselves to achieve the goal, we have all become like a family as we have worked together, thus it is fitting that we should be together today in accepting the responsibility of the office and in asking the help and guidance of God as we address ourselves to the task.

The just completed campaign has been long, some fine candidates were not chosen and we think of them now also. This election was unique in that it was conducted in a manner that dealt with ideas, hopes and dreams rather than the personal lives and personalities of the contestants.

The wounds and injuries, so often inflicted during political campaigns, were minimal. The examination of the issues and direction that should be pursued by our city has been extensive. The campaign was waged, generally, on the potential of our city and the best manner in which to achieve that potential. It is to that pursuit that I dedicate myself today.

I will work tirelessly, in all the ways available to me to bring about progress and development in the areas of our city that have been designated for growth by our master plan. I am depending on you, my friends and fellow officials to support and assist in that effort.

We must work together if we are to honor the mandate that was established on November 8th at the ballot box.

In the election of 1983, I believe that Romulus has reached a new maturity, a new stability, a new attitude about itself. I believe that we are now ready to assert ourselves in a positive way to become pacesetters for progress in Wayne County, indeed for the state of Michigan.

"It is to that end that I pledge myself.

"Finally, to you my friends and loyal supporters, my heart felt thanks, my love and binding promise to be always concerned for your safety, security and well being. To the newly elected officials, my congratulations and good will.

With the new administration and city council seated in the background, Pat Hogan (at microphone), Romulus's Community Development Director, welcomed citizens to the Seventh Inaugural Ceremony staged Monday morning in the City Council Chambers in City Hall. Hogan pointed out that "America and Americans have a unique form of government where government is transferred from one elected official to another in peace and cooperation," also, on the platform (from left) are: Rev. Ned Copleland, Community Baptist Church, Rev. Clarence Carrington, Parks Memorial, Rev. Wooden, House of God, Margery Schleicher, Community United Methodist, Judge Henry Zaborowski, 34th District Court; Beverly, McAnally, Mayor of Romulus; City Clerk Linda Choate, City Treasurer John Lewkowicz, Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks, Councilmen Jimmie Raspberry, Pete Bergeron, Fred Block, William Wadsworth, Barry Baumann and Alan Lambert.

'Political firing' case

Ex-employees get comp pay

Six former City of Romulus employees who were fired during a political transition when James Stewart took office as Mayor in 1976 are entitled to compensatory pay, according to a ruling handed down this week by Judge John Seiler of the 21st District Court in Wayne.

The six non-department heads: Lorraine Kubiak, James Radford, Carol Bales, Barry Baumann, James Darnell and Robert Plank, through their attorney, Jeffery Fieger, successfully presented their case for compensatory pay.

However, five former department heads: Edmund Bizak, Daniel Lambert, George Hargraves (now deceased) and John F. Chihan were not able to convince the judge that their firings were "political" and that their civil rights had been violated.

That second ruling by Judge Seiler will be appealed to the high court, according to the complainants' attorney, Fieger.

"We are very happy with the judge's ruling as far as he (Judge Seiler) held that the city employees were entitled to compensatory pay," Fieger said,

"however, we are disappointed that the judge ruled that the five department heads were not fired in violation of their civil rights.

"We therefore will be appealing that decision," Fieger added.

Fieger said that the former employees were fired when Stewart took office. The employees didn't have ample time to collect their "comptime" for work completed. They were not compensated either monetarily or time off.

"We argued that it had been past city practice to compensate employees in similar situations and the judge agreed," Fieger said.

Citing a Supreme Court decision (Branti vs. Finkel) where a government employee was discharged for political reasons and later compensated, Fieger pointed out that the five department heads will continue to wage their legal battle against the city.

"The court has found that the city is liable for back pay but the damages have not yet been determined," Fieger added. "The court will set another date to determine what that compensation will be."

Break-in suspect arrested

A 33-year-old Inkster man will return to the courtroom today to answer charges of illegal entry.

The defendant, Jesse Lee Howard, accused of breaking into the Sheraton Inn, was arrested last week by Romulus police after an investigation.

Howard appeared in 34th District Court for his arraignment on charges of breaking and entry and was released on a $5,000 personal bond. He is scheduled to reappear today to answer the charge.

Police said that Howard was picked up and taken into custody after finger prints taken in the room of the alleged break-in appeared identical to that of the defendant's.

Robber takes $6,000

An estimated $6,000 was taken in a daylight robbery of the Community Federal Credit Union Friday.

According to Canton Township police officers, a lone white male entered the credit union at about 4:20 p.m. The suspect allegedly took the money from the teller drawers before fleeing the bank on foot.

"From what we know, he didn't say anything to anybody," Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart said. "He never passed a note, never threatened anyone with a weapon or produced one."

Special patrol doubles drunk driving arrests

Five Points is an "obvious target" for patrolling, the police chief said. The one-person patrol cars will generally put in about 12 hours a week, he noted.

"Usually, but not always, this would be on the weekends. The officers will work in four hour shifts," Dockter said.

Police assigned to the special patrol will keep an eye out for the "usual signs that the driver has a problem," said Elden. "Weaving from one lane to another, driving too fast or too slow, wide turns—any of those can be a warning."

Grant money also pays for a $500 portable "breathalyzer" to be given each community participating in the program.

"The officer can administer the test (for traces of alcohol) in the car," Dockter said. "Of course, if it's positive, the person would still have to come to the police station to take a conclusive test."

In western Wayne County, 16 communities are participating in the program. Police who volunteer for the special patrols average about $17.50 in overtime pay, said Dockter.

Van Buren Township is not officially participating in the effort. Police Chief Leonard Keller said that the Van Buren police force "lacked the manpower" to take part.

"We don't feel we have that much of a need for it here," he added. "We have a patrol car assigned for that purpose."

Dockter noted, though, that the special control cars could patrol secondary roads in Van Buren should the need arise. All officers participating in the program were recently deputized by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department — giving them the authority to make arrests in other areas of Wayne County.

Garden City Police Chief Charles Wilmoth coordinated the task force, patterned after a similar one in Oakland County. "The Oakland County task force has shown a lot of success in patrolling drunk drivers," Dockter said.

Elden commented that the grant money is a result of increased public awareness of the hazards of drunk driving. "Groups like MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) have definitely had an effect. The state is finally seeing that this is such a serious problem," she said.

"More people in this country are killed by drunk drivers than by criminal actions. We're finally getting on the ball about this," she added.

Teen drug abuse

95 attend 'Chemical People'

Some 95 persons were sitting in the darkened cafeteria watching television. They were there because of their concern for their children. Their neighbors. And their community.

Their attention was focused on the television special, "The Chemical People" about school age substance abuse.

For some, the problem of substance abuse had already become a personal problem, for some, a dreaded fear, but for all, a definite source of worry.

Across the nation and in more than 80 locations in the Wayne County area, thousands of concerned citizens sat in town meetings like the one in Romulus.

Public broadcasting stations (channel 56 in the Detroit area) presented "The Chemical People" project in a two-part series on November 2 and November 9. The first program was about the way substance abuse affected individuals and the community while the second program viewed at the town meeting dealt with how a community could organize to combat substance abuse.

The television program was followed with a presentation by panel members (educators, counselors, a school board member, a doctor, a juvenile officer, and a student) of the problem of substance abuse in Romulus as seen from their positions in the school community.

The high school student felt that substance abuse "was not that bad" at the high school, but later stated that "half of the students use them (drugs or alcohol or both)."

David Baker, counselor at the Romulus Help Center said the Help Center had been involved in counseling the high school's students weekly for the six years he has been in Romulus and that (substance) abuse is a definite problem.

Al Wilkerson, high school counselor in Romulus, expressed a concern about "the wall of denial" mentioned in "The Chemical People". Parents frequently refuse to believe their child is involved with drugs or alcohol until the child himself admits his use, often in a confrontation with a school counselor in the parents' presence, according to Wilkerson.

Throughout the evening, new people arrived to join in voicing their concern, or just to listen.

Most of those present were adults but several young people sat together in small groups or along with a parent.

One group of tables was occupied by a recently formed student organization, S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk), accompanied by their teacher advisor, Fred Coleman.

Commenting individually, several persons agreed that, according to one parent, "attention should be given to the (substance abuse) problem much earlier."

'The Romulus Community School District should invest $50,000 into some extra-curricular activities for those kids.'

Coleman stated, "High school is too late... The kids have to have something... there is nothing for them at the junior high school." He added, "The (Romulus Community Schools) district should invest $50,000 into some extra-curricular activities for those kids to give them something to do... The kids need a recreation center," he continued.

Responding to the question of what parents could do about abuse, Al Shelley, moderator and director of the Romulus Help Center, explained that the purpose of the town meeting was to come together to organize a task force that would attack the problem as it exists in Romulus.

Thursday, November 17 at 7:30 at Wick Elementary School library is the date set for the first meeting for the task force.

Carol Bales, the RPAC chairperson for "The Chemical People" project will serve as temporary chairperson of the task force until an election can be held to name permanent officers.

Van Buren issues anti-shoplifting proclamation

November has been designated as "Shoplifting Prevention Month." Shoplifting, a national disease, results in millions of dollars in losses to businessmen and wrecks the lives of countless people, who are arrested in the act of stealing.

To alert residents and help fight shoplifting, the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees and Township Supervisor George Craven have issued the following proclamation.

Van Buren Township Board of Trustees
Office of the Supervisor
Proclamation

WHEREAS, The Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs sponsors ongoing anti-shoplifting campaigns throughout the State of Michigan, and

WHEREAS, the shoplifting losses in Michigan are estimated to be $762 million dollars, and

WHEREAS, in an attempt to reduce these losses, the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, in cooperation with The Honorable James Blanchard, Governor of Michigan, has designated the month of November to be Shoplifting Prevention Month, and

WHEREAS, the GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club members Pat Antonelli, Kitty Davies, Delphine Dudick, Connie Etter, Gloria Gardner, Ellie Grudzien, Cathy Horste, Vicki Leischner, Tina LePendu, Kitty Miller, Dian Wilson and Joannie Payne, resident of Van Buren Township, support these anti-shoplifting activities and pledge to continue to work to decrease shoplifting losses in Van Buren Township and in Michigan.

THEREFORE, I, GEORGE CRAVEN, SUPERVISOR OF THE TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN, do hereby proclaim November as SHOPLIFTING PREVENTION MONTH, and urge all citizens to take cognizance of activities occurring within and about Van Buren Township to reduce shoplifting losses in Michigan.

DATED THIS 8th OF NOVEMBER, 1983

We love a parade.....

Do you love a parade?
We at Associated Newspapers do, and we're hoping to share our enthusiasm for such extravaganzas with our readers, while helping out Santa and his very special work.

Santa is none other than Westland's Gene "Santa" Reaves, who works year-round to gather up gifts and donations to provide a happy holiday for youngsters at the Plymouth Child Development Center, needy youngsters in the Norwayne Subdivision and guests at the Rose Kennedy Respite Center, to name a few.

He has been at it for almost 20 years, and each year the call for his work grows. More than 500 children will have a Christmas, complete with Santa Claus, thanks to Reaves.

But what does a parade have to do with this very special Santa? Everyone knows the Jolly Old Elf makes his official pre-Christmas visit on Thanksgiving Day, ready to hear the wishes and hopes of thousands of youngsters of the firm belief they've been good this year.

As a special treat for one of our lucky readers, and to help "Santa" Reaves with his Christmas work, Associated is sponsoring "We Love A Parade."

For a $1 entry fee, readers will have an opportunity to win four grandstand seats at the Nov. 24 Michigan Thanksgiving Parade in Detroit. But that's not all. The winner and his or her three guests

County is planning 5% tax reduction

Primarily because of declining residential property values in Wayne County, taxpayers generally can expect nearly a five percent decrease in their tax bill in 1984, County Commissioner Milton Mack has announced.

Mack is reporting effects of the 1983-84 tax levy adopted by the County Commission on November 4. On basis of state equalized valuation (SEV), the levy indicates the amount of millage and assessment for raising funds to operate cities, townships, school and drain districts as well as for other purposes within taxing jurisdictions.

Mack emphasized that adoption of the annual levy does not impose a new tax, but — to reflect changing property values — merely reapportionments within taxing limits already approved by voters.

Until the Commission adopts the levy each year, cities and townships and other taxing jurisdictions are prohibited from collecting the taxes that fund public services. With adoption of the levy, revenue can now be collected from taxes due after December 1.

This year the levy throughout all 43 cities and townships in the County is $127.7 million, about $5.25 million less than the $133 million levied in 1982. That reflects $700 million less in SEV, down to $18 billion this year from $18.7 billion last year.

In the taxing procedure, SEV is determined by assessment of property at one-half actual cash value. After assessments are determined locally by officials in each community, the County Commission in April each year conducts hearings and applies equalization factors assuring uniform rates for all jurisdictions across the County.

The SEV together with millage, local and County, determines individual tax bills. Like the SEV, the millage rate varies with each community, any of which can vote more millage than another for schools, drains, police and fire protection, etc.

will be picked up at home and ferried to and from the parade in a chauffeur-driven limousine, courtesy of Don Massey Cadillac.

Money raised through the contest will be donated to Reaves' Santa's Christmas Fund for the benefit of underprivileged children.

Entries will be accepted through 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 21, with the drawing to take place at 6 p.m. that day in the offices of Associated Newspapers.

So don't miss your chance to love a parade while helping others. On Page A-5 you'll find a coupon to fill out. Do it today and mail it to Associated Newspapers - Santa's Christmas Fund, P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Mich., 48184.

Don't you just love a parade?

SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES
MINUTES OF A REGULAR MEETING OF THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1983
Meeting called to order by Supervisor Reeves at 8:00 p.m. with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Roll Call Showing:
Present: Supervisor Reeves, Clerk Banotai, Treasurer Hoffman and Trustees: Bevins, Huziak and Humphreys
Absent: Trustee Morgan
Excused: Trustee Morgan
Also present: Attorney Turnbull, Engineer Wilhelmi, Deputy Clerk Sienko and approximately 30 interested citizens Motion by Humphreys, supported by Hoffman to accept the agenda. Motion carried unanimously.
4. Open Floor Discussion
M. Smith asked why the water line stopped before it reached her house and why the Township could not get more money to put in additional water lines.
D. Welch questioned the Engineer as to why the Township could not get more money from FmHA. Also asked to speak under Old Business - Item B and Attorney's Report.
Mr. & Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. Korotney, Mrs. Sulkey, Mr. Steeg and several other citizens were present to discuss the way their drains are being cleaned and the wood that has been removed from their property. Supervisor Reeves assured those present that their property would be restored to the condition it was before the crew started the project and would take care of any damage that was done. Will give it to the residents in writing. Set up a meeting with the residents, himself and the engineer for Saturday morning at 10:00 A.M.
Mrs. Smith and C. Foston discussed the cleaning of the road ditches. S. Pomerwinski asked to speak under New Business - Item C and Treasurer's Report.

our opinions

Compromise

Council, mayor need to work for community

The Westland city election is now a part of history. The winners say the people have spoken and sent a clear message to Mayor Charles Pickering that these are the four councilmen they want to represent them.

The winners consider the balloting as a vote of confidence for the path they have steered the city down, an indication that they are doing the right thing for Westland and its residents.

We agree that Westlanders have spoken, that they have decided that this is the council the mayor must work with, and agree with the apparent endorsement of politics as usual.

In the past two years, the city has received a black eye from its ongoing political in-fighting. Its elected representatives have lost track of what its motto hopes to say of the city, that it is a community of "Pride, Progress and Promise." The fighting between the mayor and council has tarnished the city's pride, it has slowed progress to a snail's pace and has replaced promise with disillusionment.

If the message to the mayor is clear — that he must set aside differences and work with the council — then it also must be clear to the council. They, too, must set aside differences and work with the mayor. Granted, they have extended the olive branch on more than one occasion, but we feel they must continue to extend it. Now is not the time to sit back and gloat or wait for the mayor to take the first step.

It has been said that he who hesitates is lost. If the council or the mayor chose to hesitate, we feel the city will be lost to two more years of pretty squabbles and bickering. It is time for both sides to communicate with each other.

Westland has a big enough black eye as it is. There is no need to make it bigger. We urge the mayor and council to work together for the betterment of Westland, not personal gain. We urge them to sit down together in a show of peace and hammer out their differences.

In the Old West, problems were solved with gunfights. Westland doesn't need any more shootouts in the Council Chambers. What it needs is people willing to work for the community, something it hasn't had for two years.

Go, Robichaud, Go

Two more victories...

On a faraway football field in Flint this Saturday, a group of champions will be representing this area.

Head coach Robert Yauck and his Robichaud Bulldog football team will take to the gridiron against Grand Rapids East High School in a state championship semi-final game.

And it's been one of those 'dream seasons' for Yauck and his teams.

The climb to the top started early last September for the Bulldogs. In nine regular season games, they went undefeated. They then faced a determined Saline team last week in the opener of the playoffs. Through all ten contests, the Robichaud team prevailed.

They not only prevailed, but they disposed of the opposition with a vengeance not seen anywhere else in the state this autumn. Of the ten games played, eight ended in shut-out victories for the 'dogs. Only 15 points were scored on the team all season, and in today's wide-open style of play, that is indeed an accomplishment.

In his years at Robichaud, Coach Yauck has had mixed success. His record with the Bulldogs stands at 66-69, but his teams have won five Suburban Athletic Conference titles, including the last two. He also was at the reins when the Robichaud gridders last visited the state playoffs in 1977.

There are many that feel that Robichaud now has a clear path to the state title. If they win Saturday, they will face an as yet undetermined opponent in the Pontiac Silverdome on Nov. 26. That contest will be for all the marbles.

Regardless of how the Bulldogs do this week, or possibly next week, they already are champions. They have represented the school, the district, and the area they play for with the honor and dignity befitting a team of their talent.

The citizens, parents and fans truly have a squad that they can be proud of.

Go, Robichaud, go!

You're two victories away from that "impossible dream."

Why sacrifice babies?

Early in October I watched the "That's Incredible" TV show. On it, they showed a baby that was born at five and a half months and only weighed one pound. The doctors and nurses gave the parents no hope for their girl to survive. To their amazement the baby fought for life. Later, they were able to take the baby home.

Why is it, that in this day and age, when there are so many medical advances to prolong life, that mothers are killing their babies before birth?

Why is it, when there are people all over that want babies that can't have them, that mothers are having abortions?

If a baby only five and a half months old can survive, why should we terminate lives that have the likelihood of surviving to full term?

An abortion is a purely selfish way of getting out of a pregnancy. The mother thinks of it as only an extension of her own body, when in actuality it is a separate entity. She thinks of it as just a blob of tissue. Doctors have taken pictures in utero of the baby sucking its thumb. It responds to pain and stimuli. It is a person. I don't believe the baby should be sacrificed just because the mother thinks it's the wrong time to have a baby.

Even a baby who is the result of incest or rape should not be killed because of parentage or circumstance. Why kill the baby, who through no fault of its own, was conceived?

As I see it, there is no possible reason why I would terminate a pregnancy. I have two handicapped sons, and if I had known ahead of time that there was something wrong, I still would not have had abortions. I do not believe that it is my choice/right to have an abortion once a baby is conceived.

Most unwanted pregnancies are the results of promiscuous living by teenagers and indiscriminate adults. If a pregnancy is not wanted, then self-control should be the guide.

Parents should be teaching their children that sex before marriage is wrong, and when once married, sex only with their marriage partner is right.

If a parent expects their children to be sexually active before marriage, then, of course, they are going to fulfill their parents' expectations. If the parents teach them that sex before marriage is wrong there is less likelihood of the teenager engaging in sex, and there is no need to teach about birth control.

Birth control was originally invented to help husbands and wives space their children. It should not be for the use of unmarried people who should not be sexually active anyway.

I believe we should be teaching our children the worth of a person, even unborn babies, because God made them. We should be teaching them self-restraint. If we put our hand in the fire we are going to get burnt. We should be teaching them that pre-marital and extra-marital sex is wrong. Only is sex right in the marriage bed with the marriage partner.

We would have no need for abortions if these principles were followed.

Kimberly Warner
Belleville

Those TV massacres

EDITOR — I'm sorry that my students have seen movies like "Pieces" and the chain saw massacres.

I'm saddened that by the age of 13 they have seen people sliced, diced, devoured, exploded, raped and mangled.

I'm frightened by the graphic descriptions and play by play deliveries given by 7th and 8th graders of these heinous acts.

These emerging adolescents are reassessing and establishing their own values. They are taking their first clear look at the world and sizing it up through their own perceptions. The values and morals they accept as their own in this stage of their life are the deep rooted seeds from which the blossoms of good judgment grow.

Parents, please talk to your children about these movies and reality. Please check and double check when they go to the movies to insure that they are viewing appropriate material. Most importantly (and most shockingly) many of my students witnessed these violent acts as well as nudity and sexual promiscuity in their living rooms watching movies, from which they'd be restricted at the theater, on cable.

If you have it, please monitor it. Young adolescents still need strong parenting. They need you to help make appropriate decisions.

Thanks for your ear

Notoriety Van Buren doesn't deserve

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

Numbers and statistics can be deceiving.

Ask anyone who fiddles around with numbers and he'll tell you that one can do just about anything with numbers. They can make you look bad or good.

Take, for example, stats compiled on crime. The FBI usually releases annual statistics on the increase (or drop) of serious (and serious means murder, rape, armed robbery) crimes in the United States.

And, if you glance over to the statistics on serious crimes, for example, Bloomfield Hills, you find that homicide has increased in that wealthy community by 100 percent. Frightening, isn't it? But, if you take a good look, you'll discover that there has been only one murder (this year) in that city, the first homicide in the past decade.

And, this point was brought out when an article published in a Detroit daily announced that crime in Van Buren Township had increased an overall 92 percent. Van Buren apparently led the county. Of course, this triggered a lot of phone calls to township officials by a lot of concerned residents in that community.

Was this small hamlet trying to rival Detroit as the "Murder Capital of the Nation?"

Is Van Buren becoming infamous as 'Wicked Township U.S.A.?'

Here's George Craven, Van Buren Township supervisor, to answer those questions.

"I know that some of our citizens are concerned," Craven said. "I know I am. 'Whenever and wherever there is crime and criminal activity we are dedicated to abolishing it. But those statistics are very deceiving."

"And, although the newspapers' figures are right, the conclusions drawn were erroneous. The apparent rise (in criminal activity) reflects the difference in record-keeping and reporting of crime statistics here in the township," Craven said.

"In 1981, many police reports were not sent to the state by our police department and some citizens' complaints were given to the State Police and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

"However, since the reorganization of the Van Buren Police Department under Police Chief Leonard Keller, record-keeping and reports have been vastly improved and our citizens are directing more calls to the local department because they find our department is more efficient in handling the calls and in response time," Craven added.

Craven stresses that "the high incidence of crime has affected the entire county and Van Buren Township unfortunately has shared in this growth."

"But," Craven reminds residents, "that increase has not been apocalyptic as it appears to be reflected in the newspaper article."

"We, like all other communities when it comes to crime, have our problems...but it is safer to live here in the township than it is in some of the others which did not receive the notoriety," Craven concluded.

A nurse is eulogized

EDITOR — Several weeks ago, as most Plymouth Canton employees were returning to work, one dedicated school employee fought and lost her battle with cancer. On October 21 Darlene Huyck died.

Ms. Huyck was a nurse in the Plymouth Canton schools for the past eight years. During her years of service to the district, she routinely tested sight and hearing, dealt with minor ailments and injuries, and made recommendations and arrangements for additional treatments and services.

With dedication and personal caring she served children and their families far beyond her professional guidelines.

Ms. Huyck's services did not end with her professional role.

As a caring, giving human being, she extended herself; offering her love, her energy, her time, and even her own limited financial resources to those whom she serviced daily.

She made herself available as a sympathetic ear to those who had no one else; she provided emergency transportation; she spent hours searching for organizations and individuals who could provide the medical, optical, and holiday assistance that she knew was needed by many of those whom she worked with... and when all other resources failed, she often dug into her own pocket to pay medical bills and purchase groceries.

Many of those who received Ms. Huyck's support, never knew how much of herself she was offering.

Those of us who knew her, worked with her, and cared for her, will long remember and miss this very special lady.

Why bench LL grid sports?

EDITOR — I read the Romulus Roman edition of The Associated Newspapers every week, however, I never see anything about the junior football program in this city.

I'm not sure if people think it isn't important or if they just don't think about it.

But I know the families and friends of junior football players feel it's real important. The boys learn discipline, good sportsmanship patience and pride. They learn how to win and lose.

For two months each year you can find us sitting in the bleachers, on Saturday or Sunday, rain, snow or sunshine watching our sons on the field.

This year the Romulus Flyers Freshman team made all those cold feet worthwhile. They were undefeated. They won all eight games. All their hard work paid off. With the guidance of coaches, Bill Hardrick, Jim Sullivan, Ron Collins, Oliver Kennedy, Greg Milne and Carroll Deters, the enthusiastic cheerleaders and the support of their parents, our 34 sons did a great job.

So on October 29th when they won their last game, all the smiles, shouts and pats on the back showed how important it is to the boys as individuals, and as a team, and to us as parents. We are very proud to be able to be a part of it all, and want to say congratulations Freshman Flyers, for a job well done.

From 'Winner of the Year'

EDITOR — I would like to publicly thank Canton Township Board for choosing me as "Winner of the Year" for 1983. I received a personal resolution, two dozen beautiful roses, a "Key to Canton", and the reminder of just how lucky I really am.

Thanks to the Board, Jake, Teresa, Doug, Jimmy, and Carol for their continued love and support.

Thanks also to the Canton Kitchen Band. They are great... as usual. A special thanks to Sparrs Flowers!

And to all the people who make Canton Township special.

People really DO care

EDITOR — I had something wonderful happen the other day.

Feeling quite depressed because my unemployment will soon run out, I am 53 years old and having a hard time finding another job, I didn't know what to do.

I was advised to contact Sylvia Kozorosky, Deputy Director of Department on Aging in Westland.

She must have spent two hours listening to me and making phone calls.

She set up an appointment for a job and also another appointment with an attorney because of an injury on the job.

She was leaving on vacation the following day and still spent time with me.

People like this make the world just a little better to live in.

Halloween was a safe one

EDITOR — Thankfully our Halloween was safe and happy this year. We owe our police department for both safe and happy.

They were more visible than ever this year along with the ROTC, patrolling both streets and sidewalks. Every block or so a police car would stop. Out stepped Romulus' finest, bucket in hand, calling the kids to him. Then he passed out candy to the kids, shook hands with the parents, and then asked us at the doors how things were going.

Needless to say everyone at our door was ecstatic, parents and children alike. My own kids came in with candy galore but they all reached in to show me what the policeman gave them. At these young impressionable ages — this one night the Romulus Police Department did more good than a month of lectures. Thanks a million guys.

Glenn vocational center lauded

EDITOR — I recently visited the Vocational Center at John Glenn High School to have my automobile repaired.

While there I dropped in on several of their operations. At each one I was given a friendly greeting by the instructors.

I was impressed with the friendly attitude of the students and their application to their work.

Not incidentally, my car problem was taken care of without delay and at a fraction of the cost I would have paid elsewhere.

Faculty and students of John Glenn, you are mighty fine people.

'Thank you' from VBSA

EDITOR — We, the Van Buren Soccer Association, would like to thank many people for making our association what we are today. On October 22, we had a dance as a fund raiser. It was our second and both were very successful thanks to PNA an organization in Sumpter Township and the D.J.'s that were the entertainment and the people on the dance committee that put them together.

The members of the P.N.A. practically donated the hall for almost nothing and D.J. "Mr. T" (March Dance) and D.J. "Leo" (October Dance) charged us such a small fee that we were able to make a good profit to go towards the necessities that our organization needs.

And we can not forget PNA member, Sylvester Blaszk, and his family for donating their time for setting up and overlooking both evenings to make sure things went well for us.

Both times they prepared food for the evening but unfortunately the people did not seem to be hungry. Mr. Blaszk is a super person and we thank him a lot. Many businesses donated many items for raffles and door prizes and from all of that our dances have been a great success.

Having these kind of fund raisers and making them a success helps keep down registration fees for children that play soccer. The sponsors are a big part of this association.

With their sponsor fee we are able to supply our teams with nice uniforms, pay referees and pay for the insurance we must carry. We of the V.B.S.A. would like to thank our sponsors; Belleville Reality-Century 21, Sloan Oil, Adventure Travel, L & W Engineering, Becks Party Store, Nickerson-Tin Lizzie, Sumpter Ace Hardware, Sumpter Fire Department, Sumpter Township Recreation Department, Sumpter Social Civic Club, Mike Zaborowski-Buildler, Kwianis Club, The Odd Fellows, Pump & Grocery, Medicare, Inc., Post, Lutz, Smythe & Ziel (Auditors) and P.N.A.

Vasko's Restaurant and Goofies car wash have been just great with advertising our activities on their signs. Van Buren Township has let our organization use their town hall for our meetings and when that was not available Nickerson-Tin Lizzie let us use their banquet room for our meetings.

Last but not least we want to thank our parents and their children for all their patience and help when we needed it. If the V.B.S.A. is going to become greater than what we are we are going to need a lot more help from the parents. Our coaches give a lot of their time because they enjoy seeing what our children get out of playing soccer and how they become better at it everyday they practice and play their games. WIN or LOSE all of our children are WINNERS, BIG WINNERS.

They give their all on the fields and when their coaches and parents are there to see them play and cheer them on they feel like they are important and to their parents, coaches and teammates they are. November 7, was our General Membership Meeting which we held our annual election.

Anyone wishing to come out and run for an office on the executive board is always welcomed! People who are not in soccer and would like to be, this is your time to come out and do your part.

We, the Executive Board want to say THANK YOU to everyone involved and hope that we can become better and bigger as time goes on.

VAN BUREN SOCCER ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE BOARD:

Chuck Hundley-President & Coach, Norm Fry - Vice-President & Coach, Sharon Pokerwinski - Secretary & Team Parent, Tom Haggart - Treasurer & Coach, Sheila Engle-Registrar & Team Parent, Ron Held - Great Lakes Soccer Rep. & Coach, Peggy Bodenmiller - Trustee & Team Parent, Landon Garrett - Trustee & Coach, John Gross - Trustee & Coach and Phil Wilcox - Trustee & Asst. A Marine's Prayer

EDITOR — If it comes to pass that these men lost were for a purpose it will at least be easier to reason: But "God help us," if we gave it all as a token as if in a game, for so many lives were touched by this loss and will never be the same.

We were there as a symbol of peace; serving our country as we should. We were doing what we were told, we were doing what we could.

They knew our strength and must have feared our power, why else would they have seized us at such an hour?

They knew we had to rest, they couldn't take us at our best. So, they snuck into the night, that way they wouldn't even have to fight.

Please God, not another Man, we couldn't take another war where instead of honor we got shame, don't let this happen to our men, don't let this happen to our name.

So, I pray for faith, I pray for wisdom, and I pray this all happened for a "very good reason."

reflections

Read fine print, first

No matter how you slice it, when you step over that senior citizen line, you are marked. You can play 36 holes of golf in one day, swim a mile in the morning and again in the afternoon, and no matter how good you feel, how young you feel, THEY have your marked!

My husband, who is just barely over 65 and wouldn't know it if someone didn't tell him, came running through the door the other day.

"Listen to this", he shouted. And he handed me a paper which read, $20,000/$40,000 Protection Profile of Term Life Insurance especially prepared for Ben F. Hagelthorn", and how we could tell it was really for him was because it had our address with even the zip code correct. So we read on.

It said: "$20,000 for your family if you die by sickness or natural causes."

"$40,000 for your family if you're fatally injured in an accident!"

"Oh, that's neat", I yelled. "Just think if you had had this policy the day you tripped over the cat on the stairs and fell all the way to the bottom, and if it had killed you, we would have been $40,000 richer!"

He ignored me and went right on reading.

"Lifetime coverage... regardless of any change in health."

"Low rates".

"You can apply for coverage for your spouse and children too!"

And then there was a long letter which told him that he was a 'special people'. They said he expected and appreciated good value, which, of course, anyone can tell just by looking at the person he married.

The writer of the letter implored my spouse to stop and think of his family, how we would enjoy all that money after he went on to the great beyond.

The writer begged my spouse to take advantage of this opportunity, and even added a P.S. begging him to send for the protection and to be sure to mail the application by October 24, 1983.

"Find me a pen", my spouse yelled, and I went scrounging around in the drawer and shelves and finally came up with a yellow marking pen. This made him frustrated and he asked me if I had ever made out an application with a yellow marking pen, which, of course, I never had. I finally found a pen under the chair where it wasn't supposed to be, as he told me, and, of course, as I already knew. But what can you do?

And then he sat down at the dining room table and began to read the answers to questions he may have had about this high quality protection.

"You always read the fine print", he told me and so I leaned over the table and read it with him, read every word, right up to the last paragraph.

"If you're under age 60 you're eligible to apply."

the faces of your children or your children's children frozen into death masks?

There was another particularly powerful photograph that Steve Stroud showed — it was a picture of a mother in Turkey wailing over the dead bodies of all five of her children, killed in a quake. The pain on that woman's face was wrenching and almost unbearable to look at, but it served as a grim reminder that nature, too, can destroy. And that there are real people — innocent victims — struggling with their grief over there, as there are here.

It met Steve Stroud's criteria — but more important, it did it without infringing on that mother's private grief. That same photograph may be shown across this country for years to come — it is that powerful — but a mother who suffered enough will never have to see it.

And there's the difference, it seems to me — there are times when art for art's sake just isn't good enough.

Steve Stroud, the picture editor of the Chicago Tribune, was at the Detroit Press Club the other day, talking about what he looks for when he selects photos for his newspaper's front pages.

"When a questionable photo comes across my desk and I personally have problems with it," he said, "I ask myself two questions: Does it portray a historical event, and is it necessary toward understanding?"

To illustrate, he showed slides of photographs which had appeared in the Tribune and in other publications. He chose as his theme, "War and gore" (he chose the theme, I chose the title).

He showed pictures that he would — and did — use, as well as photos available through AP and UPI wire services, but ones which he made an editorial decision not to use.

He showed us pictures that were already indelible in our memories: The Vietnamese child running naked and screaming down the road near My Lai; the prisoner being shot by a Vietnamese officer — the camera catching the exact moment of impact as the bullet explodes into the man's skull; the girl at Kent State kneeling over a dead body, screaming...

There were others equally as powerful, some of which we — or at least, I — had never seen. Possibly because other editors had chosen, like Stroud, not to use them.

There was a photograph of a heavy woman who, after having fallen out of a second-story window, had become impaled on a wrought iron fence. The photo showed firemen cutting away that section of the fence so that they could transport the woman, fence and all, to the hospital (The woman, incredibly, lived). That particular picture had appeared in his newspaper, Stroud said, but before he became picture editor. If it had been his decision to make, it never would have made the pages.

He then showed us a photograph we had all seen before: A fire escape breaking away and two children free-falling, screaming, to the ground below. Stroud indicated that this picture was "different", in some way, from the first, and that he had no reservations about its appearance on his pages.

I myself couldn't see the difference. How was it any more "historic" than the first? How was it necessary toward understanding? Several of the people in the room — writers, all — suggested that the second photograph was appropriate because it was "art". The camera had captured that one agonizing moment — had captured the terror in those children's faces as they fell through the air — and had frozen it forever on film. That was "art", as opposed to a photograph of workers removing a woman impaled on a fence. Anybody with a camera could have walked up, within the half-hour or so it took to remove her, and snapped that very same picture, they said.

So it's art for art's sake, is it? A chance to show that photojournalists are artists, too. A chance at the Pulitzer prize, maybe.

But there is a family out there somewhere, a family to whom those children belonged — a family whose lives have been forever changed by the fall — and by that photograph.

I have seen that particular photograph many, many times. I expect to see it many more times over the years, as the perfect example of photojournalistic art. And if I have seen it many, many times, I have to assume that the family of those pictured children has seen it many, many times, too.

What must it be like to turn the pages of a magazine or a book and see again and again

All in a day's work

Canton police save lives...quietly

Police work - high speed chases, drug raids and shoot-outs... well, sometimes. More often, though, police work, like most jobs, is of a more routine nature, involving gray areas, questions of judgment, quiet solutions to undramatic problems - the type that don't usually make headlines.

Patrolman Rick Pomorski

Such was the case when Canton Police Officer Rick Pomorski recently aided an elderly motorist who encountered difficulty in the township.

Pomorski was called to check on the man, an 82-year-old Franklin resident who, out of gas and stranded on a Canton road, was offering inordinate sums of money to obtain help from strangers.

"He was disoriented," Pomorski recalled. "Even after he got gas in the car, I didn't think he should be driving. But he was spunky," the officer added. "It took quite a bit of talking to convince him to follow me to the station."

That accomplished, it took even more coaxing to get the gentlemen inside.

With the aid of officers Jim Hanna and Dennis Joker, Pomorski succeeded in getting the man into the station, where he was served coffee and doughnuts. Officers were than able to gain information about his family and arrange for his safe escort home.

"I just didn't want to see him get back behind the wheel and drive off," Pomorski explained. "Although the man had money and a new car, he didn't have enough gas to get home, and didn't seem to realize where he was."

Lt. Joker later praised Pomorski's actions. "Legally, we couldn't stop the man from leaving," he said, "and it would have been easy for the officer to just let him go on his way."

"But Pomorski was concerned and talked to the man for an hour," Joker said. "That's called 'dead time' - there was no ticket issued, no arrest made, no credit given. But it was important, and just may have saved some lives."

A publicity-shy Pomorski insisted the act of kindness was "no big deal. I just felt sorry for the man," he said. "It's not the kind of thing they can train you to handle at the academy, and it was a little tricky."

"I care about older people," Pomorski explained, "maybe because I've got a grandfather who's 94 and a grandmother, 87. I just think you've got to look out for them, the way they looked out for you for so many years."

Local communities divvy up federal block grant monies

Dozens of federally-funded construction projects amounting to some $7 million and scattered among 32 communities will begin shortly as the result of action taken by the Wayne County Commission in approving new block grant programs.

The announcement was made today by Commissioner Kay Beard (Inkster).

The commissioner said $5,039,000 was provided for housing rehabilitation, water and sewers, road improvements, senior citizen centers, and other community-based programs. In addition, another $2,081,000 was provided through the federal Jobs Bill, the commissioner pointed out.

Funding is restricted to those communities with populations of less than 50,000 and, in many cases, was based on competitive ideas and past performance. The block grant programs are expected to create hundreds of jobs for the depressed areas.

Cities and townships receiving grants include: Allen Park, $175,000; Brownstown Township, $249,364; Canton Township, $130,500; Ecorse, $528,112 plus a portion of $88,809 split with River Rouge; Flat Rock, $156,857; Garden City, $161,020; Gibraltar, $143,043; Grosse Pointe, $100,000; Grosse Ile, $80,000; and Grosse Pointe Farms, $119,000.

Also included were: Grosse Pointe Park, $247,800; Grosse Pointe Woods, $99,000; Harper Woods, $974,000; Huron Township, $189,653; Melvindale, $270,000; Northville, $80,000; Northville Township, $99,000;

Plymouth, $103,128; Riverview, $209,397; River Rouge, $401,124 plus a portion of $88,809 split with Ecorse; Romulus, $341,793; Southgate, $130,804.

Sumpter Township, $236,774; Van Buren Township, $214,423; Wyandotte, $454,353; Wayne, $179,105; Belleville, $52,537; Trenton, $105,000; Woodhaven, $99,000; Plymouth Township, $120,000; and Rockwood $15,986.

The cities of Detroit, Livonia, Dearborn, Inkster, and Highland Park are not included, however, an additional $35,789 was allotted to the Wayne County Office on Aging to provide continuation of a tele-care program serving the aged in eight communities.

Grant award conditions require existence of staff capacity to monitor and administer the projects and all proposals are reviewed independently by three staff members of the Wayne County Community development Block Grant Program and graded on a point system. Some 24 proposals were submitted from 16 communities competing for a share of $1,250,000 set aside for housing rehabilitation projects and 17 cities and townships received funds totalling $518,393 for innovative ideas.

Patrick A. McClelland, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McClelland of 118 Bedell, Belleville, has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y.

Field training, attended by cadets normally between their second and third year of college, gives an opportunity to evaluate each student's potential as an officer, according to an Air Force spokesman.

The summer's curriculum consists of orientations on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relation education and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized.

The field training is four weeks, but cadets in the two-year ROTC program receive an additional two weeks of instruction in the development of air power and the contemporary Air Force Force.

McClelland is a student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Master Sgt. Siegfried Mosesmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horst G. Mosesmann of 1900 W. 54th, Hialeah, Fla., has earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Wayland Baptist University, Plainview, Texas.

Mosesmann has completed college studies through participation in the U.S. Force off-duty education program.

The program has the Air Force paying 75 percent tuition for active duty Air Force members and 90 percent tuition for career non-commissioned officers with less than 14 years military service.

He is assigned at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, with the School of Health Care and Science.

His wife, Donna, is the daughter of Nellie L. Gates of 118 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville.

Pvt. Durrice E. Green, son of Eleanor and Clarence J. Green of 6052 Essex, Romulus, has completed the basic field artillery cannoneer course at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course, students were taught the duties of a howitzer or gun section crewman. They also received instruction in communications, maintenance and the handling of ammunition and explosives.

He is a 1983 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Army Reserve Pfc. Kathy L. Pearson, daughter of Pat C. Pearson of 25216 Balfour, and Charles A. Pearson of 25326 Waltz Road, New Boston, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

The private is a 1978 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston.

Airman Frederick A. Hunter, son of Frederick D. Hunter of 35460 Border, and stepson of Theresa E. Hunter of 35560 Margaret, both of Romulus, has also been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the audio-visual field.

He is a 1983 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Army Spec. 4 Tanya L. Jackson, daughter of Thurman and Mary E. Christopher of 15047 Mountain Way, Romulus, was involved in a NATO-sponsored exercise by participating in the Army's return of forces to Germany (REFORGER) and the Air Force's Crested Cap exercises.

The exercises are designed to develop uniformity of doctrine, standardize procedures for rapid response to a crisis and demonstrate solidarity in commitment to NATO goals and objectives.

Jackson is a medical specialist with the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas.

Her husband, Michael, is the daughter of Ruth Jackson of 27 N. Ardmore, Pontiac, Mich.

The specialist is a 1979 graduate of Ecorse High School.

Army Spec. 4 Jacki L. Moore, daughter of Merry H. and Louie Moore of 7929 Marlowe, Belleville, Mich., has participated in Bold Eagle 84, a joint service readiness exercise held at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The exercise involved more than 19,000 service members from all elements of the Department of Defense assisting in repelling from a friendly nation an invading force, thus testing the combat readiness of U.S.-based forces.

Moore is a medical specialist with the 197th Infantry Brigade at Fort Benning, Ga.

She is a 1981 graduate of Belleville High School.

Army Pvt. David C. Enzenauer, son of Cindy and Claude H. Enzenauer of 42861 Riggs, Belleville, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1983 graduate of Belleville High School.

Chocaroon Loaves to keep, take

The nicest kind of neighbor one can possibly have is the baking kind. You'd know her anywhere. She drops by unexpectedly with a pan of warm rolls or a home-made cake and is likely to remark that it's just as easy to bake two cakes as one. What a technique for winning friends!

We hope you have a neighbor like her or, better still, that you're the neighborhood baker. If you're not, but would like to widen your circle of acquaintances, and please your family at one and the same time, try this recipe. Make a pair of Chocaroon Loaves, one to keep and one to give away.

COCAROON LOAVES

1 egg white
dash salt
¼ cup sugar
2 Tablespoons cake flour
1½ cups cookie coconut or 1½ cups flaked coconut.
3 squares semi-sweet chocolate
¼ cup water
1 cup sour cream (½ pint)
2 cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
Semi-sweet glaze

Beat egg white and dash of salt until foamy throughout. Gradually add ¼ cup sugar and continue beating until mixture forms stiff shiny peaks. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour and the coconut; set aside. Heat chocolate with water in saucepan over very low heat, stirring until chocolate is melted and mixture is smooth. Cool thoroughly; then mix in sour cream. Meanwhile, sift 2 cups flour with baking powder, soda and salt. Cream butter; beat in sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Mix in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with sour cream mixture, mixing well after each addition. Pour about 1 cup chocolate batter into each of two 8 x 4-inch loaf pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper and lightly greased on sides. Sprinkle ¼ cup coconut mixture over each. Repeat layers. Then top with remaining batter and coconut mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted into centers comes out clean. Cool thoroughly in pans on racks. Remove from pans, top with Semi-Sweet Glaze.

NOTE: Cake may also be baked at 350 degrees in two 9-inch layer pans (making only two layers each of batter and coconut mixture in each pan) for 30 to 35 minutes, or in one 9-inch tube pan for about 55 minutes.

SEMI-SWEET GLAZE
3 squares semi-sweet chocolate squares
3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
dash salt

½ teaspoon vanilla.
Place chocolate, water and butter in saucepan. Stir constantly over low heat until melted and smooth. Combine sugar and salt in small bowl. Gradually blend in chocolate mixture and vanilla. Pour (dribble) over loaves.

New on the scene

Joel Russell Myers

The new sound being heard around the home of Russell and Ronnie Myers at 220 Church St., Belleville, these late fall days is none other than that of their new son, Joel Russell.

Their first child, the newcomer bowed in at 5:37 p.m. Oct. 24 at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. His weight was recorded at 6 lbs.-12 ozs. and his length at 20¼ inches.

Grandparents adding to their family trees include Clarence Kissel of Belleville; Mary Johnson of Gallatin, Tenn.; Susan Tuttle of Vancouver, Wash. and Richard Myers of Taylor.

Great-grandparent honors go to Marie Domcik of Belleville and Robert Poole of Gallatin, Tenn. and to Eva Mauk of Dearborn, Joel's great-great-grandmother.

The new mother is the former Ronnie Kissel.

Jill Suzanne Pluciniczak

Things have taken on a pink glow since Oct. 24 at the home of Joe and Margaret Pluciniczak of 13357 Lake Point Blvd., Belleville. A little girl by the name of Jill Suzanne is responsible for the change in decor and for turning the couple into an instant family.

Making her debut at 7:57 p.m. at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, the new heiress weighed 7 lbs.-14 ozs.

She is the granddaughter of Joseph J. Pluciniczak of Toledo, O. and the daughter of the former Margaret Poznan of Toledo.

Renee Michelle Starlin

The birth of a baby daughter, Renee Michelle, is announced by Mark and Lee Starlin of 46080 Lake Villa Dr., #207, Belleville.

Weighing in at 6 lbs.-13 ozs., the infant put in her appearance at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor on Oct. 20.

Her proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Starlin of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nagy of Sumpter Township.

Stephanie Ann Baker

Elizabeth Ann Vicary

Bob and Millie Baker of Belleville are proud to announce the addition of two new granddaughters to their family tree, both of whom arrived earlier than expected and both on a Thursday, were both given the same middle name and both delivered by caesarean section. The similarity ends there.

Stephanie Ann is the name chosen by Bob and Nina Baker of Mission Viejo, Calif. for their fourth child who arrived Sept. 8 at University of California Irvine Medical Center.

She is the new sister of 12-year-old Natasha; 6½-year-old Bobby (the third) and three-year-old Christopher.

Her maternal grandmother, Ludmila Selvra, resides in Los Angeles.

Tom and Joan Baker Vicary, who live across the country from their West Coast kin, welcomed their first child Sept. 22 at Oak Ridge Hospital in Oak Ridge, Tenn., where the new mother teaches school.

Residents of Kingston, Tenn., the Vicarys named their new addition Elizabeth Ann. She weighed 9 lbs.-9 ozs. and measured 22 inches.

Ward and Doris Vicary of Leslie, Mich. are the infant's paternal grandparents.

Former Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Mida of Westland, are taking honors in the great-grandparent division and along with the two baby girls, who were numbers eight and nine on the family totem pole, have since added a 10th member to their clan.

After taking count, the Bakers came up with a total of seven grandchildren, two of whom live in Swartz Creek, Mich.

Katherine June Diane Palmer

Garry and Cheryl Palmer of 348 Dakota, Ypsilanti, have a new daughter who arrived at 11:51 a.m. Oct. 30 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Titled "Katherine June Diane," the infant weighed 8 lbs.-3 ozs. and measured 20½ inches.

The couple's first child, she is the new granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carter of Bellevue, Fla., Paul Palmer of Monroe and June Palmer of Stewart, Fla.

The new mother, the former Cheryl Carter, is a one-time Belleville resident.

potpourri

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

At first thought, it seemed a bit premature to do a Christmas-theme column until, enroute to Chicago last weekend, I realized Thanksgiving was a mere two weeks away. Granted, at one time the public didn't even think of Christmas until after Santa had been given the key to the city after the traditional big parade in Detroit. Today, folks, you may have noticed a decided clash of colors with the orange and black competing with the red and green as early as Halloween!

So, realizing turkey-day is now next week, I figured it only appropos to include some hints for "stuffing." Only this is of another genre — it's for all you stuffers-of-stocking out there pounding the mall concourses. And — lest you've not given it thought, there are only 37 shopping days left before you-know-what.

For those who've held to the original fruit, nuts and candy fillers for their family mantel-hangings, all the more power to you! Stick with it! Don't start something that will (in Yours Truly's case) snowball and turn into a year-round project, (which I really do enjoy!)

In direct contrast to those practical people are the ones who go with a few small but expensive "baubles" to fill an expensive-but-small stocking (have you seen the black lace ones studded with semi-precious stones? Woo-ee!) Although they might be a bracket-or-two above us average Americans in their holiday spending, it's still fun to include their way of life in our ramblings.

Still others prefer only the frivolous while their opposite numbers choose only practical items. For those who select a little of each for Christmas morning surprises, the following helpfully-alphabetized list is for YOU! It's geared for the adult him's 'n' hers in your life; for the kiddies, you're on your own.

A — After shave, amaretto and other after-dinner liqueurs, apple corer, aspirin (pocket-size tins), automotive tape, address labels, ankle chain (14-K, or course!)

B — Book plates (get 'em personalized if you can), butter curler, bartender's guide, bottle caps (the good, sealing type), breath mints, book marks (you can even find them in gold, too), baster for meat and poultry, bath beads and oil, blush, belts (the stretchy, sporty ones), belt buckles, brandy, bay leaves, business card case (monogrammed if you're really flush.)

C — Calligraphy pens, crossword puzzle books, caramel corn, cookie cutters, combs, coil of stamps, coasters, cocktail napkins, corkscrew, champagne capper, coin counter, candy thermometer, candles (squat, skinny, birthday, decorative), car wax, chamois, cassettes, curling iron, cotton balls, and don't forget the caviar and champagne (splits if the stocking's small, a magnum if it's amazon size.)

D — Dusting powder, dish cloths and towels, dental floss, dried fruits, dill weed, doorhooks (ceramic, brass, plastic), dice, dictionary (purse-size), darning needle, decorative nails and oh, some designer chocolates and a diamond or two.

E — Eyelash curler, egg slicer, emery boards, extension cord, embroidery scissors, eyeglass case, envelopes (all sizes, include some big manila ones, too) and how do you feel about emeralds?

F — Film, flash cubes, fingertip towels, fancy toothpicks, funnel, footlets, felt markers, fireplace matches (those prettily-boxed long ones), flour sifter, foil pans (little loaf-size), French mints and how 'bout some fudge, the homemade variety?

G — Guest soaps, garlic press, garden gloves, glue sticks, grapefruit spoons or knife, gift enclosure cards, golf tees, balls and glove; gift certificates for anything, and toss in some gourmet goodies — tins of biscuits, crackers, crabmeat, sauces.

H — Hand mirror, hairbrush and hair spray (travel-size on these as well), hair pick, horoscope book (the little ones, they're fun), hot pads, hose, hot fudge sauce, how-to booklets, your "Hummer" recipe.

I — Incense, instant coffee, ice cream scoop, ice cream toppings, iced tea spoons, ice cube trays (find them with cute patterns), icicles — the curly glass ones for the tree and for the grande, inches and inches of pearls.

J — Jams and jellies (some of those wee jars), jigsaw puzzles (they come stocking-size), jelly beans, jack knife, jewelry — use your imagination!

K — Knitting accessories (stitch holder, markers, needles, instruction books), key chain, knee-high stockings, kitchen shears, kahlua.

L — Luggage tags (these, too, can be personalized), lotion (again, remember the traveler), lozenges, lip balm, lapel pins, locket, loophia (loofa?) sponge, lipstick, lottery ticket, letter opener (there are some beauties, all prices, masculine and feminine, too.)

M — Magnifying glass, memo pads (check out the ones with the hilarious captions), measuring cups and spoons, masking tape, magazine subscription, magnets for the 'fridge, medical thermometer, make-up bag, matches (holiday theme, initialed), mustard (again, shop the gourmet departments for the unusual types) and maybe a miniature or two of the pewter family?

N — Newspaper subscription, notebook (purse-size), nail polish and remover, nutmeg grater, nail clippers, note paper, nuts, nail file.

O — Olives — get several kinds; ornaments, orange marmalade (try an amaretto-nut version), orange sticks, orange slices, Oreo cookies (are you aware they're available chocolate-covered? In candy shops? And that they're di-vine?) Opals, anyone?

P — Postal cards, the regular ready-stamped ones or those with designs geared for just everyone on your list, picture-hanging kits, pill box, pencil flashlight, pocket calendar, plant food, popcorn (do-it-yourself or the already-popped stuff), peanuts, pie crimper, pant hangers, pastry cloth, penny candy (a thing of the past?)

Q — Quilting pieces and patterns; quality chocolates (you can go broke buying these!) and, naturally, a quartz watch.

R — Rubber bands, ruler, razor blades, rum, road maps, Rubik cube, rubber spatulas, room deodorizer, recipe cards, rubber cement, rubber gloves. Don't forget, rubies carry out the holiday colors.

S — Shoe laces, sweat bands, shaving brush, shoe horn, spoon holder, seals/stickers, socks, silk tie, small strainer, shampoo (for the travel cases), spices, scoops, screwdriver, saw blades, scotch tape, swizzle sticks, schnapps, shavers (disposables for those on-the-go), shoe brush, shoe polish, shower cap, sunglasses (again, designer labels can be that something "extra"), Spill 'n Spell game, sponges (for car, kitchen, bath.)

T — Tea (look over all the new flavors available), tea cozy, tongs, tire gauge, three-in-one oil, thumb tacks, teaball, tweezers, tooth brush and case, thread, tape measure, travel-size toothpaste, timers (for turning on lamps, for baking), tickets — for anything, to anything, to anywhere.

U — Undies, Underalls, ultra-suede-ish key cases, checkbook covers, address books; units (dividers) for kitchen, bedroom drawers; utility hooks, umbrella (folding, naturally).

V — Vitamins, vice grips, visor mirror, vodka, vegetable brush, vanilla bean, vanilla flavoring (only the real stuff, remember!) and viva vino — Chablis, Chardonnay, Piesporter, Boones Farm, Mogan David — and for heaven's sake, include a bottle of Rothschilds!

W — Wrapping paper, wire whisk, wok tools, work gloves, warming candles, wallet, wrenches, writing paper, whole nutmeg, world almanac.

X — X-tra fine linen handkerchiefs, X-tra fine ballpoint pen, X-pensive perfume and jewelry, X-otic lingerie, an X-caliber to carry it all home in.

Y — Yarn for knitting, for gift packaging; yoga lessons, Yahtzee pads, yardstick, a few yen, YMCA memberships, yo-yo (for the executive, made in brass or goldplate to use as a paperweight.)

Z — Zippers, zinnia seeds, zodiac-theme cufflinks, key chain, charm, belt buckle — take your choice — and how 'bout a zircon! Now I've said my ABC's, tell me what you think of these (to be sung, of course, to the tune of A-B-C-D, E-F-G, . . .)

THE BOTTOM LINE: The good old days are what you get when you combine a rich imagination with a poor memory.

They plan to marry

Stapleton-Yavas

The engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann Stapleton, and Dr. Burhan F. Yavas, are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stapleton of 11665 Juniper Dr., Belleville. A resident of Long Beach, Calif., the bride-elect is a student at California State University where she is affiliated with Alpha Delta Phi. She is also employed as director of recruitment at Americana Realtors in Bellflower, Calif. Her fiancé, who resides in Long Beach, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Yavas of Istanbul, Turkey. A professor of economics at California State University and Pepperdine College, the prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Bosphorus University, Ankara University and the University of Southern California where he earned his Ph.D. The young couple plan to be married Dec. 30 at Tecumseh Country Club in Tecumseh, Mich.

Brinson-Moore

Cindy Brinson and Don Moore, both of Arlington, Tex., are engaged and busy with plans for their Dec. 19 wedding. Their engagement is announced by Dr. and Mrs. E.J. Brinson of 2609 Sunlight Dr., Arlington, parents of the bride-elect. A 1978 graduate of Bethel Baptist School, Miss Brinson attended Arlington Baptist College and is currently working as a secretary at the Bethel Baptist Church. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary D. Moore of 37333 Wick Road, Romulus, graduated in 1975 from Romulus High School and in 1980 from Tennessee Temple University where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in music. He is currently teaching music at Bethel Baptist School. He and his bride-to-be are both members of Life Action Ministries, 1981-83.

FICTION

"Christine" by Stephen King. The author has returned to the full-fledged horror for the first time since The Shining. It will keep readers up late and will have them looking both ways as they cross the street after dark.

"Knave of Hearts" by Philippa Carr. A heritage of passion, a circle of deceit and an epic tale of love and danger as the world bursts into flames.

"Her Victory" by Alan Sillitoe. This is the story of two lonely people — both solitary by inclination, both scarred by their pasts — and their first moves toward each other, their search for love, for happiness — and, through their conquering of the past, their victory over the present.

ARTS, CRAFTS

"Crocheting Patchwork Patterns" by Annette Lep. If you've ever wondered what to do with those remnants and half-skeins of yarn left over from your crocheting projects, this book provides an answer: "patchwork" crocket projects. By combining squares based on quilt block patterns, you can make beautiful afghans, sweaters and other projects.

"The Christmas Crafts Book" is a prime source of ideas and designs for anyone who is creative and practical.

HISTORY, POLITICS

"This was Harlem 1900-1950" by Jervis Anderson. This reconstruction of a major chapter in America's past begins with the migration of blacks to Harlem at the turn of this century and ends in 1950. The years between provide a portrait of early Harlem as a social and cultural magnet to almost all American blacks.

"The Warner Bros. Story" by Clive Hirschhorn. The complete history of the great Hollywood studio with every Warner Bros. feature film described and illustrated.

"Presidential Elections" by Nelson Polsby. Strategies of American electoral politics. A highly acclaimed guide to the often bewildering process of electing an American president.

HOW-TO GUIDES

"Dowsing for Everyone: Adventures and Instruction in the Art of Modern Dowsing" by J. Howells.

"Woodburning: Art and Craft" by Elaine Broadwater.

"Indoor Home Repairs Made Easy" by Peter Jones. It doesn't matter who you are or where you live, sooner or later the building you live in will have a mechanical breakdown that demands the services of a plumber, electrician or carpenter who, for a considerable fee, will solve almost any crisis. This book tells how the vast majority of those "crises" can be taken care of by any sensible adult possessing no prior experience and a few ordinary tools.

MISCELLANEOUS READING

"Freelance Forever" by Marietta Whittlesey is about successful self-employment.

"The Grammar Crammer" by Judi Keselman-Turkel. How to write perfect sentences.

Mystic Banquet has 37 present

The Mystic Banquet Feast Obligatory of the Grand Cross of Color Rainbow for Girls was held at the Masonic Temple Nov. 7 with 37 members present. The pledge to the flag was given and "America" was sung.

The address of welcome was given by Connie Gubaci, Mother Advisor, and the Blessing by Charles McKelvey. The tables were set in the form of a cross by the arrangements committee: Pauline Quinley, chairman; Faye Traskos, Edna Florian and Richard Carey. A moment of silent prayer was held in memory of Max Ingall of Dearborn who passed away suddenly Nov. 7.

During the business meeting with Donna Collins, presiding chairman, the following officers were elected: Chairman, Charles McKelvey; Recorder, Ruth McAtee; Treasurer, Frances Cothorn; Membership, Pam Clark; Arrangements, Ruby Clayton; Sunshine Chairman, Juanita Akers; Pledge Group Mother, Denise Welt.

Ruby Clayton was mistress of ceremonies for Renewal of Preparation of Vows Bread Service with Tammie Francis and Irene Harper attendants. Roberta Welt, P.G.W.A., led the Renewal Vows.

Family Nite dinner held

The Annual Family Nite dinner of the Past Matrons' Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, was held at the Masonic Temple, Wednesday evening, Nov. 9 with 27 present including the Worthy Matron-elect, Mrs. June Hawkins.

Because of the illness of the president, Florence McKelvey, the vice-president Ruby Clayton welcomed the group and made the introductions. The Chaplain, Eva Luper, led the group in asking the blessing. Following a roast beef dinner, card bingo with "white elephant" prizes was enjoyed.

The December meeting with Marie Murphy as hostess, will be held at Bonanza in the Lakewood Shopping Center at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 1. Each member is asked to bring a gift to exchange.

File these away for pending holidays

With two (three, actually) big, big holidays just on the horizon, it's time to think ahead — perhaps to the dessert portion of those pending meals.

Here are three seasonal pies to file away for future reference, the first of which is one that can be made in your microwave oven.

CRANBERRY CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 cups fresh cranberries
2 egg whites
1 cup sugar

1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 9-inch baked pastry shell
½ cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon sugar

In bowl, soften gelatin in cold water. Add cranberries. Cook, covered, at high for 5 minutes or till skins just pop, stirring twice. Stir well to dissolve gelatin; cool. In large mixer bowl, combine egg whites, the 1 cup sugar, the lemon juice, salt, and cranberry mixture. Beat till mixture holds firm peaks about 8 to 10 minutes; pile into pastry shell. Chill 4 to 5 hours. Whip the cream and 1 tablespoon sugar; spoon in dollops atop pie.

FROSTY PUMPKIN PIE

1 cup canned or cooked and sieved pumpkin
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons molasses
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 quart vanilla ice cream
½ cup chopped pecans
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Combine pumpkin, sugar, molasses, salt, ginger and cinnamon. Soften ice cream and fold into pumpkin mixture, stirring to blend. Place in baked 9-inch pie shell. Sprinkle with chopped pecans and freeze until firm.

CRANBERRY NUT PIE

4 cups whole cranberries
1½ cups sugar
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon salt
pastry for 9-inch pie

Coarsely chop or grind cranberries. Combine with remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour filling into crust. Roll out remaining dough to form a 12-inch circle. Place crust over filling. Slit crust for steam to escape. Trim; turn edges under; flute. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) about 50 to 60 minutes. Cool before serving. NOTE: Check pie after 35 minutes. If necessary, cover edge with aluminum foil.

Early deadline

Due to Thanksgiving falling on our regular deadline day, it will be necessary for all Suburban Living items to be submitted by 2 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 23.

They're engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Julien of 6808 Fellrath, Taylor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen S. Julien, to Juan A. Calvo of 520 Hickory Lane, Westland.

The bride-elect, who holds an associate degree in nursing from Henry Ford Community College, is currently a parttime student at Madonna College working toward a bachelor's degree in nursing. A registered nurse, she is employed at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Calvo of 6002 Plainview, Detroit, is a 1978 graduate of Romulus High School. Employed parttime in the respiratory therapy department at Oakwood Hospital, he, too, is pursuing a nursing degree at Madonna College.

The couple plan to be married in the fall of 1984.

Social Security rep speaks at BPW Club

The Nov. 7 dinner meeting was a festive occasion for members and guests of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club. Tables, decorated with a Thanksgiving motif, included orange placemats made by Bonnie Pavlats' third graders at Quirk Elementary School. The holiday menu was prepared by the women of Faith United Methodist Church in Denton.

Among the 33 members and 16 guests was the honored state president of the Michigan BPW Federation, Frances M. Barnes who gave a short pep-talk on membership and brought greetings from the state officers. The President of the Dearborn BPW Club, Peg Hoblack, and friend Mary Maskinske, shared the eventful evening.

Belleville BPW sponsors an 11th grade girl from Belleville High School to attend Girls' State at Central Michigan University each year and last June Sandy Sparrow was the recipient of this scholarship. She was present to report on the weeks' activities which have as their purpose, the training of young women in the importance and understanding of government as experienced in Michigan today.

The highlight of the evening was having Omnicon Cable Television on hand to tape the program. Maria Holmes, the TV representative indicated the meeting would be on channel 8 sometime next week.

Frances M. Heimes-Savickis, field representative from the Inkster, Social Security Office, informed the group of the many favorable changes in 1983 which will benefit working and retired women and answered the many questions presented. Social Security, she said, has been made solvent for the next 75 years through the many 1983 changes.

During the business meeting it was agreed to participate in the December Christmas Parade in Belleville. Also, at the December meeting, each member is to bring a large bag of canned goods to be contributed to the food baskets for the needy prepared by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce. In addition to the canned goods, each member is to bring a $5 homemade gift for membership exchange.

Two-year calendars and tote bags will be on sale by the Belleville BPW Club to benefit its annual scholarships at Belleville High School.

All plans for the November meeting were prepared by the Legislation Committee: Ruth Davis, Ruth Pollard, Georgia Badgett, Evelyn Pullen and Marilyn Montogery.

In the community

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Mrs. Henry (Ada) Sager left recently for Cincinnati, O. where she spent several days with the James Jacobs family. On Saturday they all attended the wedding of her niece, Judith Ann Reeve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reeve of Loveland, to Scott Winfield Lesterman at the Church of the Savior in Montgomery and the reception following at Holiday Inn, East Gate.

On Sunday, she was the guest of honor at a dinner at the Jacobs' home in celebration of her 86th birthday. Besides her grandsons, three cousins and several friends were also present.

Mrs. Margaret Saunders was a recent guest of her friend Mrs. Ethel Klaiss of River Rouge. The two ladies accompanied a group from Epworth United Methodist Church to Detroit where they attended the Hector Olivera organ recital at the Fox Theater in the afternoon. The affair was sponsored by Friends of Central United Methodist Church of Detroit.

Mrs. Lewis Pierman of Ottawa, O. has been a guest this past week of her sister, Mrs. S.C. Pierman and other relatives.

After having spent the past month with her sister, Mrs. Florence Fielder, Mrs. Hugh Bozeman left last Tuesday for her home at Fort Worth, Tex.

Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson were in Beulah last Monday to attend the funeral of a long-time friend, Mrs. Virginia Rabe, at the Bennet Funeral Home.

Following the regular Sunday service at the First United Methodist Church Nov. 6, coffee hour, a special birthday cake was served in honor of the 94th birthday of Darryl H. Raymond Sr. and the 90th birthday of Mrs. Emma Bawden whose natal dates are Nov. 6.

November seems to be a popular month for birthday celebrations. Mrs. Zula Hopson was a guest of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bunder of Garden City, and her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson, for dinner at a new restaurant in Wayne Nov. 8 in Celebration of her 85th birthday which falls on Nov. 10.

Another dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fielder of Wabash Street on Nov. 9 in celebration of the 7th birthday of their daughter, Jaine and her greatgrand mother, Mrs. Effie Kerbyson. Others present were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coburn of Romulus and her grandmother, Mae Fielder and Uncle Tom and Jaine's older brother.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and son, Murray of Bay Village, O. spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Stella Cox of Liberty Street and Wayne friends. On Saturday evening the Cox family enjoyed dinner together at an Ann Arbor restaurant in celebration of the 21st birthday of their son, Jeffrey, who is a law student at U of M.

Mrs. Norma Nagle of Dearborn spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Roulo of Liberty Street.

Fifteen members of the Electa Club of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, met for dinner at Leutheuser's in Saline Nov. 3. Later they met at the home of Edna Florian for dessert and the regular meeting with election of officers as follows: president, Aldine Potter; vice-president, Hylma Smith; secretary, Mary Grover; treasurer, Juanita Akers. The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 9.

Mayor Emerson speaks on 'spirit of our city' at Junior Study Club

The spirit of the holiday season had a beginning for the members of the Woman's Study Club of Belleville at its meeting Nov. 9 when "the spirit of our city" was the topic of the program.

During the business meeting, about-to-be-retired Mayor Justin Emerson, read a proclamation naming Mrs. Don (Avis) White as Mrs. Federation for the year 1983-84 and presented her with the proclamation and a dozen roses. Mrs. White will be honored again at the State Convention in April, 1984.

An active and enthusiastic Federated Clubwoman since 1956, Mrs. White has held official positions in the State Federation as well as in both the Junior and General clubs locally. Through her endeavors, Belleville and the surrounding community have benefitted also. Horizon Park was one of the projects she saw to completion, and state recognition for the beautification of a commercial firm was won by Huron Valley Steel Company through her efforts.

The club voted a gift of money to September Days to help buy a new van which will be used to transport local Senior Citizens, and emptied its "piggy bank" for the Girlstown fund to buy a new refrigerator — a project of the Southeastern District Federated woman's club members.

Mrs. Lynn Hamilton introduced Mayor Emerson again and he spoke to the club about the city of Belleville, its history, its growth and its potential. He told about the foresight of the city planners who insisted on political growth as well as physical growth and made the group aware of its good fortune in having civic leaders whose ambitions were only for the welfare of the city. He explained the ways Federal monies were used in Belleville, spoke of the new Senior Citizens Housing project, showing the architectural plans, and cited the hope that ground could be broken in September, 1984.

He spoke about the problems, too, and gave assurance that city officials were not only aware of them, but were working hard to keep the city a viable and progressive community. A question and answer period followed the discussion while members and guests enjoyed a Thanksgiving dessert.

September Days

The Seniors' Thanksgiving dinner, for any resident of Belleville, Van Buren or Sumpter Township, 60 and over, will be held Wednesday, Nov. 23 at the September Days Senior Center in the Van Buren Township Hall.

The Nutrition Program will celebrate the holiday with turkey, dressing, pumpkin pie and all the trimmings. A suggested donation of 75 cents will be asked.

Because the meal is catered, it is necessary to make reservation by Friday, Nov. 18. Call 699-8920 any week day between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. and ask for Clara.

Whole as One Singles bows in at New Boston

A hayride, bowling, dinner theater, dancing and more are already on the agenda for the Whole as One Singles Club, the newly formed organization which held its initial meeting at 7 p.m. Nov. 11.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church at the corner of Craig and Ellis Streets in New Boston will be the meeting site for future sessions slated for the second and fourth Fridays of each month.

Any single person, 18 years or older, is invited to attend, meet new friends and share their similar station in life. Sometimes married persons have become single again and find they have a number of adjustments to make. Their married friends no longer include them in their activities and suddenly they are left out and lonely.

They sometimes think they are the only person with feelings of rejection but they are not. There are many others with those same feelings. This is one of the reasons for the singles club. Others include a chance to meet people and discuss how to deal with each situation; to have the companionship of other singles and to share life's problems with others of similar status.

Be part of a group which deals with the problems of singles. Guest speakers have been scheduled and will provide insight on how to deal with being "one" again. This is an opportunity to do away with the loneliness of sitting home.

For further information, please call Allan Debozy at 581-2560.

THE NEW ELAINE POWERS.

Whether you're a raw recruit, re-enlistee or seasoned veteran, our new Powerise workout is as tough as you can take. Powerise is probably the greatest exercise workout ever invented. It was designed to not only strengthen your cardiovascular system but to also firm up your entire body. But let's face it, an hour of Powerise may be too tough for the raw recruit or for a woman who is just re-enlisting after a long period of no exercise. So we start off raw recruits and re-enlistees with an easier program that involves just the right amount of Powerise to get them back into shape. At the new Elaine Powers, you'll get a workout that's tough enough to get results... but only as tough as you can take.

Tests prove that circuit weight training decreases body fat, improves the cardiovascular system and increases strength. But those aren't the reasons you'll keep doing it. Circuit weight training eliminates the monotony and drudgery of exercises performed on one piece of equipment in just one place. You move quickly from station to station strengthening your heart and firming up your body without being bored. And that's the reason you'll keep doing it. And that's the reason you'll get all the benefits.

It's not just an army that travels on its stomach—we all do. The body needs food for energy. But how much and what kind and how often are the keys to good diet and nutrition. We give you those keys in the form of diet and nutritional guidance. If you follow our advice, you can lose excess weight fast and keep it off. But even more importantly, you can stay healthy while you're doing it. Our diets don't starve you to get thin—they lead you to get fit! Because we believe a firm, trim body is something you have to work for—and you can't do that on an empty stomach.

Our Drill Instructors are tough because they care about you. Our Drill Instructors know that if you can survive basic training at the new Elaine Powers, you can survive anything. Tight jeans, slinky dresses, leeny bikinis—you can survive them all. But a body that doesn't quit doesn't come easy. It takes a tough Drill Instructor to push you into it. And that's the only kind we care about at the new Elaine Powers—the kind that cares about you.

Another export gem

ECHO AND THE BUNNYMEN
(Sire)

For those unaware of the rhythms and rhymes of Echo and the Bunnymen — one of a handful of brilliant 80's UK exports — this mini-LP will serve as a fine introduction.

Five songs, most unavailable in this country except as high-priced imports, and every one of them are engaging musical efforts, filled with the unique guitar stylings of Will Sergeant and the dramatic vocals of 24-year-old Ian McCullough.

Included are "Rescue," the band's first-ever release on a major label, dating back to April of 1980; the long version of the British hit "Never Stop"; and a never-before released live version of one of the group's finest tunes, "Do It Clean," which was recorded at London's

Westland hosts skating contest

The City of Westland and the Westland Figure Skating Booster Club will sponsor the city's first open skating competition Nov. 18-19 at the Westland Multi-Purpose Arena, 6210 N. Wildwood.

Entries from Big Rapids, Livonia, Garden City, Wayne, Dearborn, Taylor, Rochester, Westland, Canton Township, Allen Park, Northville, Melvindale, Sterling Heights, Dearborn Heights, Mt. Clemens and Detroit.

The individual entry points will be accountable toward teams represented, with a trophy to be awarded to the community with the highest overall scores.

Alpha-Delta and intermediate judging will take place from 4 to 8:30 p.m. Nov. 18, and all freestyle (interpretive) and drill teams will compete from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 19.

'Chicago' opens 30th season

Set in the roaring twenties, "Chicago" is based on the book written by Fred Ebb and Bob Fosse and tells the story of Roxie Hart and Velma Kelly, two murder defendants awaiting trial.

Tickets, priced at $6, can be reserved by calling 522-8057. Reservations are recommended.

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will open its 30th season with a presentation of the musical "Chicago" for three weekends beginning Nov. 18 at the Guild Playhouse, located at 15138 Beech Daly, south of Five Mile Road in Redford. Curtain time is 8 p.m. on Nov. 18 thru 20, 25 thru 27 and Dec. 1 thru 4.

Huron sets dates for adult swim

Beginning December 5, adults interested in aquatic exercise can sign up for just such a program at the Huron School District pool. The class, which will run from noon to 1:50 p.m. on Mondays, will consist of 10 lessons.

The class is designed for those who want to tone up and get in shape. Knowing how to swim is not a prerequisite of the program.

For more information, call Roger Benner at 782-1505.

Blazo's Restaurant offers more than fresh pies

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

When persons see Blazo's uniquely-shaped restaurant at 449 N. Wayne Road, their thoughts automatically turn to fresh, homemade pies.

Blazo's and pies have become synonymous. Early each morning between 50 and 100 pies are baked from scratch, including the fruits and secret ingredients that owner John McEvilly isn't about to divulge. Nearly 20 varieties are offered...chocolate, coconut, butterscotch, apple, lemon, banana, peanut butter, cherry, blueberry and various cream pies, to name a few. Blazo's popular strawberry pie features fresh California strawberries and has been imitated at other restaurants.

These pies, most priced at $4.39, are so popular, in fact, that they continue to overshadow the menu at times.

"Some people still think they can't come in unless they order a pie," McEvilly lamented. "They aren't aware that we serve food here."

Blazo's offers a complete menu for breakfast, lunch and dinner in a cozy dining room that comfortably seats 50. A recently-completed renovation project has helped Blazo's build up its reputation as a family restaurant that can deliver more than just pies.

For breakfast, there's the $1.89 special of two eggs, two pieces of bacon or sausage, hash browns, buttered toast and jelly. Or diners can select from a number of egg or pancake dishes that range in price from $1.30 to $3.10. The hearty appetite can be satisfied with a choice of two eggs, steak, hashed brown potatoes and toast for $4.10.

Blazo's features a complete menu in addition to a wide variety of pies.

A variety of sandwiches and salads are highlighted on the luncheon menu. Sandwich selections range from a ham stack, tuna stack, reuben and corned beef to egg salad, chicken salad and a 1/3-pound hamburger. Homemade soups ($1.35) include vegetable beef, chicken noodle, navy bean and clam chowder (Fridays). Chili is priced at $1.55.

Chicken and fish and chips' specials ($3.45) headline the dinner entrees and are served with french fries, salad and rolls. Beef and ham steaks and scallop and clam platters also are highlighted on a moderately-priced menu.

And for dessert? A piece of pie, naturally. Diners can have a piece of their favorite pie for $1.25.

"On the Wednesday before Thanksgiving we'll only be open for pie orders," said McEvilly, who's owned the business for some four years. "We'll have freshly baked pies for sale for the holiday but the restaurant will be closed."

Normal business hours are from 8 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. Sunday thru Thursday and from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

"Tasting's Believing!" is the motto at Blazo's, a Westland landmark since the early 1970's. And the motto does include more than homemade pies.

Romantics' latest release reviewed

Royal Albert Hall. Rounding out the package are two cuts from the band's pivotal "Porcupine" album, and two of the strongest songs they've ever committed to vinyl — "Back Of Love" and "The Cutter," the latter of which topped the English charts last January.

To sum it up, Echo and the Bunnymen are an exceedingly good band that deserve a chance, because undoubtedly, like their sisters in sound, U2, they'll grab the brass ring and run.

THE ROMANTICS "In HEAT" (Nemperor)

The Romantics, our hometown heroes, appeared to have blown their chance at stardom when an ego clash set guitarist Mike Skill a pack-in a couple of years back. Skill's guitar sound WAS the Romantics, and while replacement Coz Canler proved an ample axeman, Mike's writing talents were sorely missed too.

Skill, the man whose fret style defined the band's sound, was out, but drummer Jimmy Marinos stayed — weird haircut and all. The band's first LP with Canler, "Strictly Personal," died with a definite whimper shortly after release.

"Hmmm... someone must have thought, 'Maybe we'd better get Mike back.' And so they did. But this time, he's playing bass, replacing the adequate but boring Rich Cole.

That said, it's no surprise to find that the Romantics' first hit single since 1980's smash "What I Like About You" is dominated by Skill's bass. The riff that lifts "Talking In Your Sleep" from the average to the "can't-get-it-out-of-your-mind" stage is his.

The rest of the album is pretty good, which means the material doesn't match their blazing debut LP but is miles ahead of "Strictly Personal." In other words, if you like the single (it's in top rotation on MTV now), buy the record. If you don't, you'll probably be disappointed in the rest too.

Welcome back Mike. And Jimmy, get a haircut, will ya?

Adams freshmen have winning football season

By HOWARD SCOTT
ANP Staff Writer

A winning football tradition has been firmly established at both of the high schools in the Wayne-Westland School District. Now, the junior high teams are also taking strides towards excellence.

"This is easily the best team I have ever had."
— Dennis Healey

A good example is the freshmen football team at Adams Junior High in Westland. The gridders just finished their 1983 season, and they ended up with a sterling 6-0 mark to show for their hard work.

The Adams team is coached by Dennis Healey, who has been at the helm of the freshmen teams for 10 years.

"This is easily the best team I have ever had," said Healey. "We scored 225 points, and allowed the opposition only 56 in six games. That means both our offense and our defense were playing well, and balance usually helps you to be successful." Healey had several young stand-outs on his squad who will be graduating to Wayne High School to do battle for the Zebras next year. Among them is Byron Nolan, responsible for the signal-calling duties during the season. Nolan threw for eight TD passes during the year, and seven of those went to his favorite receiver, Mark Robinson.

Leading the team in ground gained and touchdowns was tailback, Joe Gossett. Gossett carried the ball in nine times this year, and when he wasn't on the offensive, he manned the free safety slot on defense. From that position, he was responsible for four interceptions.

"Everybody really keyed on Joe all season," said Healey. "That allowed us to use the other kids to the best of our advantage."

Close behind Gossett was half-back Brian Smith. Smith charged into the end zone eight times this autumn, and also did a fine job when called on to block.

Speaking of blocking, Steve Walker did the job for Adams all season long. The big lineman (6 foot, 1800) teamed up with middle linebacker Mike Martin to make life miserable for the opposition.

"These kids will all be going to Wayne High next year," said Healey. "We will miss them, but it should be Wayne's gain."

The wicked mixture of a stone-wall defense and Mike Bowden's power running combined last Saturday to give the Robichaud Bulldogs their tenth straight win of the season. The black and red gridders of coach Bob Yauck downed the Saline Hornets, 12-0, in front of an enthusiastic, and frozen, crowd at Westland John Glenn High School.

The contest was the opener of the state Class B playoffs for both schools. Saline and Robichaud got to the game with identical 9-0 records in regular season play, and both schools came to the game with a reputation for playing tough defensive football.

Of the 18 games the two played, 11 had ended in shutout victories, seven for Robichaud, and four for the Hornets.

It became evident very early in the playoff game that those reputations were valid.

The entire first half was a defensive standoff, and most everyone on the sidelines and in the crowd was beginning to believe that the first team over the goal line would probably win the game.

"That sure is what I thought," said Yauck. "When they got to the 16 in the third quarter because of a fumble, I was concerned. You have to give it to our defense, though. They really did the job."

While the defense was doing the dirty work, Bulldog running back Mike Bowden went to work at getting some points on the board for the Robichaud team.

In the first half, the Bulldogs, looking as cold in the arctic conditions as anyone would expect, had trouble getting Gerald Brazill through the Hornet line. When quarterback Mark Medlock tried to throw the ball, the tosses were often on the mark, but the frozen fingers of the receivers couldn't latch on.

After the intermission, Yauck and crew changed their strategy. The bulk of the Bulldog running assignments went to Bowden on misdirection plays and fakes, and he made the most of them.

Late in the third quarter, Robichaud took over first and 10 at the 20, and the drive finally paid off in some points. Bowden grabbed gains of 10 and 11 yards on the first two plays, and then Medlock fired a pass to Brazill who went down at the Saline 32.

Bowden ran three more plays for a total of 12 yards, but then the Saline defense got wise and shut down the next two attempts. That made it third and long, and the Bulldogs needed some fast yardage to keep the drive in gear. They got it in a hurry when Medlock found Maurice Smith streaking down the right sideline. He lofted a perfect pass to Smith, who was brought down just short of the goal line.

From there, it was just a quick burst by Bowden to paydirt. The 'dogs tried an extra point kick, but Smith's attempt hit the right post and bounded in the wrong direction.

Saline went nowhere on their next possession, but they gave the Bulldogs a good scare shortly thereafter. When Robichaud had trouble advancing the ball, they attempted a punt. Saline blocked the boot, and the pigskin bounced ominously toward the goal line. Instead, Robichaud recovered and ran the ball back to the 45, but it wasn't enough for a first down.

Saline took over 45 yards away from the line, and quarterback Larry Swanson fired four straight long passes for some quick yardage. Instead, the Bulldog secondary was firmly in place, and all four fell incomplete.

It didn't take Robichaud long to take the sting out of the Hornets after that. After Bowden went nowhere on first and ten, Brazill was forced backwards four yards. That made it third and 14, and Bowden took matters into his own hands. He grabbed the handoff from Medlock, and took off on a 59 yard run that ended in the end zone, after Bowden had bounced off what looked like three sure tackles.

The try for two afterwards was Maurice Smith. This combination teamed up for a crucial gain in the fourth quarter of Saturday's game against Saline. The play set up Robichaud's winning touchdown.

Canton, Romulus to host girls' district cage playoffs

By HOWARD SCOTT
ANP Staff Writer

It will be a whole new season for the girls' basketball squads in the area beginning late this week, as the annual district playoffs begin at four locations around the area.

Several of the local teams have a very good chance to advance toward the state title, but surprises and upsets are always the norm once the tournaments get under way.

Perhaps the most competitive grouping will be at Plymouth

Canton High, where the Chiefs will host Plymouth Salem, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Northville and Westland John Glenn.

The obvious favorites in this tourney would have to be John Glenn and Salem, since both have exceptionally fine records. The Rocks of Salem were 15-4 as of Monday, while Glenn's Rockets sported a 13-6 mark for the regular season.

One of these teams will disappear fast, since the two square off against each other in the opener Thursday night.

Franklin's squad is another that will have to be reckoned with. The Patriots got off to a slow start, but they rebounded quickly, and wound up 14-5. They have been playing exceptionally well the past few weeks and should give Canton a good game on Thursday.

Churchill and Northville drew byes and will wait until Saturday to face the opening game winners. The Chargers had an up-and-down season, (8-11), but they too are capable of coming up with a big game when the

All-Area gridders coming up

Next week is the big week for area high school football teams and coaches.

The Associated Newspapers' Sports Staff will announce its 1983 Year. The team, picked by the ANP staff in cooperation with the area high school coaches, will be composed of players representing the Class A high schools in the area including Belleville, Romulus, Wayne, Westland John Glenn, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton.

Cougars win title

The Belleville Senior Cougars won the Southeast Michigan Senior Football League Championship Sunday by beating the Westland Rockets 21 to 8.

The league is for boys 13, 14 and 15 years old who weigh between 100 and 165 pounds.

The Cougars first scored on a 70 pass play from Greg Frietas to Nick Kopsolias. Then, Dennis Dobrick ran one in from 3 yards out. Mike Galloway ended the scoring with a 1-yard TD run. The Cougars averaged 34 points per game while holding opponents to just 7 points per game.

It was hard to tell which was harder on the Bulldog runners, the Saline defense or the arctic weather. Here, a Robichaud runner tries to break away from three pesky Hornets in the Bulldog's 12-0 victory on Saturday. The win qualified the Robichaud gridders for the state semi-finals for the first time ever. This Saturday, they will face Grand Rapids East in the semifinal clash at Flint Atwood Stadium.

The finals of the Canton tournament will be played 7:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Meanwhile, over at Romulus High, the Eagles will also be hosting a fine group of cage squads.

Adrian, Ypsilanti, Bedford and Monroe will join the Eagles and the Belleville Tigers in the tournament, and this district is truly open for grabs.

Of the local teams involved, Romulus probably has the best overall chance. They finished up at 12-8 for the year, and played well in a tough league. They will play Bedford Friday night at 8 and the winner of the meeting will then face Belleville, which was 2-15 as of Monday.

To the east, Robichaud High will also be playing host to five schools. This district, made up of Robichaud, Crestwood, Inkster, Cherry Hill and Divine Child, is not as hard to pick. Divine Child has been ranked at the top of the ladder in the state all season, and it will take a major upset for one of the other participants to bounce them out of the tournament.

Crestwood and Inkster will open the festivities Thursday at 7 p.m. and Cherry Hill and Robichaud will do battle at 8:30 p.m. The winner of the Crestwood, Inkster contest will go up against Divine Child on Monday at 7:30, and the finals will be held Wednesday at 7:30.

The Wayne Zebras will be traveling to Dearborn High for their district play, and will a little bit of luck, the Zebras could come home with all the marbles.

Wayne will enter play with a fine 11-7 record in the Wolverine A League, and their competition, Garden City, Dearborn, Redford, Thurston and Taylor Center, have all had mediocre seasons. The Zebras open Saturday versus Garden City at 8:30 p.m. if they win that one, they will advance to the finals the following Tuesday.

The district winners will advance to the state regionals the following week. From there, teams go on to the quarter-finals, semi-finals, and finally, the championship games, which will be played Saturday, December 10 at Western Michigan University.

Over 30 hockey Skaters getting sharper on ice

With a third of the season in the record books, all ten teams continue to battle for position in the Wayne-Westland Men's Over 30 Hockey League.

All Sorts Sports skated to a 6-3 victory over Family Heating as Craig Averill and Ed Spontack tallied for two goals apiece with Averill also picking up one assist. George Sharpe scored one goal and picked up one assist while Ken Beal accounted for the remaining goal. John Kunz received two assists as Al Farina, Tim Potts and Dave Weaver picked up one assist.

Family Heating got on the scoreboard with Ron Wojewski rattling the net twice while Ray Erickson accounted for one goal. George Klempert and Nick Palise finished the game with one assist.

Tastee Freez and Futurama skated to a 3-3 tie as both teams scored in the final three minutes of the game. Chuck Jennett and Keith Middaugh each tallied for a goal and an assist for The Freezers with Ralph Tack carding one goal. Arnie Cox and Terry Johnson picked up one assist during the game.

Mike Trudel and Ron Swider accounted for a goal apiece for Futurama along with an assist each. Jay Middaugh rattled the net for Futurama's final goal while Ron Tyranski and Dave Zielinski received one assist.

Johnson's Carbonic exploded for three goals in the first and final periods against Brock Builders to log a 6-1 victory. Ron Johnson tallied twice and picked up one assist; Ron Hays rattled the net for a goal and three assists; Ed Harmon found the net once and received two assists while Curtis Oger and Daryl Nowacki rounded out the scoring with a goal apiece. Tom Mazorowicz picked up two assists while Ron Blaszkowski and Larry Hogt finished with one assist.

Brock's lone goal was scored by Mike Adamson with Rick Wolkowicz getting the assist.

Little Bill's Trophies came out on top of a high scoring game against McDago Pub by carding an 8-6 win. Jerry Robertson scored a hat trick; Dave Milam tallied for two goals and one assist; Larry Kaifesh and Norm Beasley rattled the net once and got one assist while Bill Keskey scored a hat trick; Dave Milam Burzuk finished with two assists as George Murphy and Ernest Hunter picked up one assist.

McDago's kept the game close as Jim Creekmore scored twice and received one assist; Roger Wodgenske tallied for a goal and an assist while Gary Pierce, Dennis Darnell and Ray Schemanske logged a goal apiece. Ken Murray picked up three assists while Tom Bryan and Dave Cherry received one assist.

The two divisional leaders, Johnson's Bakery and Jake's Lounge, battled to a 2-2 tie as Jake Davidson and Terry Jobbitt tallied for a goal apiece in the second period for Jake's Lounge. Paul Briski picked up an assist on Davidson's goal.

VanBuren volleyball results

The Van Buren Township Co-Ed softball league playoffs came down to four games between the five teams. All the playoffs were excellently played. They were as follows: Mike's over Charlie's, 3-2; Tom's over Debbie's 11-1; and Pat's over Mike's 5-2.

The championship game was between Tom's and Pat's teams. Both teams played defense well. Pat's team had 11 hits and Tom's had 12 hits, but Tom's converted their hits into 6 runs, while Pat's only converted 2 runs. Tom's team emerged as the playoff champs by a score of 6-2 over Pat's team.

Undefeated soccer champs

The Westland Cosmos of the Great Lakes Soccer League recently wound up their ninth season with their seventh league championship. The Cosmos owned a record of 7-0-1 for the year, and had to defeat the Livonia Comets, (6-1-1) for the title. The team members, who play in the Under 15 division, are: (Kneeling, left to

"Our lines, both offensive and defensive, controlled the game," said Yauck afterward. "They kept up on their blocks, and created holes for our backs. They also made it awfully tough for Saline to get much running room."

Thanks in part to that line, Bowden had his most productive day of the season. He gained 159 yards on 21 carries to go over the 1000 yard mark for the year.

This Saturday, the Bulldogs will travel to the north country, Flint Atwood, to face the East Grand Rapids Pioneers. The Pioneers have a lone loss on their record for 1983 to match against the 10-0 mark of Robichaud.

"I know they wear blue and gold, they call themselves the Pioneers, and they want to beat us," said Yauck when asked about his opponent. "From what I am told, they are quick off the ball and are very strong in the fundamentals. They also have a strong tradition of winning. They have been there before, which always helps."

"Now, we have been there too. These kids have a taste of what it is like now."

Robichaud is two victories away from the coveted Class B state football championship.

'Lucky 13'

Westland Bantams roll on

The number 13 is supposed to be unlucky, but no one on the Westland Bantam "A" hockey team was heard complaining this week.

The young pucksters racked up their 13th straight win of the season last Thursday with a shutout for goalie Ed Otlewski. The win was also the tenth consecutive league victory for the squad. Their overall record now stands at an excellent 17-2.

Leading the way for Westland are forwards Stephen Wallace and Chad Mena. In 19 games, Wallace has collected 16 goals and 27 assists for 43 points. Mena also has 43 points on 22 goals and 21 assists, and Mike Maccauley is close behind with 42 total points.

In the nets, Otlewski and Scott Koscho each have played steadily. Both young netminders have seven shutouts apiece in Westland's 17 wins.

The Bantam "A" team is eagerly awaiting the return of Mickey Miller, who has been out of action with a broken wrist.

Also out until later in the month is Richard Kendall, who is suffering from a broken collarbone.

Romulus dominates All-Metro West team

The All-League selections for the Metro West Girls Basketball season are in, and the Romulus Eagles clearly dominated the picks.

On the first team, Donna and Colleen McKay were named, as was teammate Bonita Meeks. Meeks was one of only two unanimous selections on the squad. Kris Gdowski of Taylor Truman was the other, and Taylor Center's Sandy Page rounded out the team.

The second team has the Eagles' Cheryl Hawk for a member. Also included were Andrea Upshaw and Pam Adkinson of Oak Park, Taylor Center's Patty DeBoer and Andy Peregord, who plays for Taylor Truman.

Area gridders honored on all-MIAA team

A pair of gridders from Albion College were recently named to the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association all-league first team.

On the offensive squad, Mark Leidholdt of Livonia Churchill was picked. He led the MIAA with 23 pass receptions this season, and had 35 catches during the entire year.

Also named was Paul Mooney, a graduate of Plymouth Canton. Mooney called the opposition's defense for the Albion offensive squad during the season.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills...

and I'll tell you how some people saved as much as 20%* with Ameri-Therm®

THE PROBLEM

You have a hole in your roof.

The hole?

Your furnace vent.

Every time your furnace turns off, the warm air in your home is quickly lost up in the furnace vent, and on goes the furnace again, heating the air and running up your gas bill.

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air in your home is quickly lost up the furnace vent. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper.

THE SOLUTION

Close the hole in your roof with an Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper.

The heat of your furnace opens the Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper. When the furnace turns off, the Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper closes your furnace vent and the warm air you paid for stays where it belongs, inside your home.

The Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper is...

SIMPLE

- Easy to install
- Requires no electrical hookup

SAFE

- Proven in millions of locations worldwide
- Five-Year limited warranty

SAVES MONEY

- Eligible for 15% tax credit
- Based on a study of 400 homesites done by the East Ohio Gas Company, some people saved as much as 20% on their gas heating bills. This study showed an average savings of 12%. Your individual savings may be higher or lower depending on climate, living conditions, and home insulation.

Available for gas furnaces, gas boilers and gas water heaters.

Contact your nearest Ameri-Therm® dealer listed below for more details.

This month, Wyandotte Savings Bank commemorates our 112th year of continuous service to the people of the Downriver area... and you're invited. Please come to any WSB office on Friday, November 18th and join us for refreshments and conversation.

And while you're at WSB, you'll see how our wealth of experience has become a Downriver community asset, contributing to our longevity in four important areas, including:

Year-In, Year-Out Dependability

Through five wars, two depressions, and five generations of American history, WSB has been open week in and week out. And you can rest assured that our doors will open for business tomorrow, rain or shine.

Strength, Stability & Leadership

Wyandotte Savings Bank has become one of the 30 largest banks in Michigan, due to our long history of sound fiscal management and innovative leadership.

Complete Financial Services

WSB has always provided a full range of time-tested banking services. And today we're offering a growing choice of other financial services and investments to help you meet your financial goals. Individuals, families and businesses can find what they need at any of our convenient offices, located in Wyandotte, Taylor, Romulus, Dearborn Heights, Brownstown and Van Buren Townships.

Friendly, Courteous Banking Professionals

Over a century of banking experience has taught us that consistently good customer service is central to our success.

We will continue doing what we do best — providing the financial strength, dependability, integrity, and full-service banking the people of Downriver need to meet the challenges and opportunities of today and tomorrow.

Huron sets teacher, parent conferences

Parent-teacher conferences at New Boston High School are scheduled to get underway on Nov. 21 and continue until Nov. 22, school officials announced this week.
Officials add that the meetings will be conducted from 1:45 to 2:40 p.m. on the first day and 1:45 to 2:40 on Tuesday. Additional meeting times have been set aside: from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tues., Nov. 22.
The following locations will be utilized for the following classes — Library: English, Foreign Language, Social Studies and Mathematics; Home Economics Room — Science, Physical Education, Home Economics, Art and Industrial Arts.
Vocational and Special Education classes may be visited by their respective locations. Report cards should be available to parents as of Nov. 8.
Refreshments — coffee and cookies — will be available to parents, compliments of the Home Economics Food Classes.
In other Huron school news, senior students may place orders for graduation caps, gowns and announcements on Nov. 22 at 11:30 a.m. in the Huron High School Lecture Hall.
Tim Hollandsworth of Josten's will be assisting students in the activity. Senior students unable to attend the meeting shall be given sufficient materials and information to order their materials at their own convenience.
The Annual Huron Powder Puff football classic, pitting the Senior girls against the Junior girls in touch football, is scheduled for Nov. 23 at 7 p.m. at Huron High's Maveal Field.
At half-time the Coming Home King will be crowned. He will be selected by student vote on Nov. 21.
A Coming Home Dance is tentatively set for Dec. 3 from 7 till 11, p.m. in the Huron High gym. Music will be provided by a local disc jockey.
Also, Huron High School was represented at the Michigan State High School Athletic Association Cross County Cham-

Mary Ann Banks

Paid for by the Banks Re-election Committee.

The easiest way to get to the Mall is to crawl.

The SEMTA Mall Crawler.

Just step on board SEMTA Route 710-715 to or from Northland Center and all points along the way.

We call it the Mall Crawler. You'll call it easy. Because the Mall Crawler comes by approximately every forty-five minutes on its way to and from Northland.

No traffic to worry about, no parking problems, convenient pick-up right at the door of the mall.

How much?

It's only $1.00 each way. 75¢ for students.

And 50¢ for Senior Citizens during off-peak hours. Plus Saturday fares are an even greater bargain (75¢ each way, and 50¢ for Seniors and students). And normal-size shopping carts and strollers are welcome.

What Stores and Stops?

All the stores of Northland, Downtown Oak Park, Downtown Ferndale, Plus Northgate Shopping Center, Kmart Center. And specialty stores and restaurants along the way.

Where & When?

The Mall Crawler travels 9 Mile from Jefferson to Greenfield between the hours of 5:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. five days a week (7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday).

Take the Mall Crawler this week. It delivers the area's best shopping right to your door.

For route, schedule, information on fares and availability of lift-equipped buses, phone 962-5515.

Carrier of the Week

Byron Rochleau

The Associated Newspapers Carrier of the Week is a young man with a great deal of incentive.

Having only begun his route in Wayne in July, Byron Rochleau has increased his subscribers substantially and is now providing the Eagle to 63 customers.

"I just try and get the customers to try the paper and then I give good service. Then they recommend me to others," the 12-year-old businessman noted.

"And we had free papers to give away last month for samples and when people got it free, then they wanted it all the time," he added.

Byron is the son of Ron and Pat Rochleau of Treadwell Street in Wayne. He is a student at Stevenson Junior High School in Westland.

His favorite aspect of his newspaper route is the time he gets to see friends while delivering his papers. "It only takes about an hour or so and it's fun. And I like the money I'm earning. I'm saving now for a waterbed and for Christmas presents," he added.

Byron's parents have been encouraging and helpful to him in obtaining new customers —

"It's easy. I just ask them." Carriers of the week will be selected by the Associated Newspapers Circulation Department based on prompt payment of bills, fewest customer complaints and overall outstanding achievement.

the letter writer

... by ginny eades

Your responses to my column are most appreciated. Please continue to write to me at 41711 Joy Road, Canton, MI 48187 or call me at 455-8892.

MAGAZINES — WHY IN THE WORLD DID I BUY SO MANY?
Dear Letter Writer:
I can't believe I did it, but I bought five magazine subscriptions from a door-to-door salesman. I must have been nuts. He caught me at a weak moment and now I want to cancel and get my money back. I tried to cancel the order but they won't refund my money.

Sincerely, Mr. H.

Dear Magazine Company:
Accept this letter as a request for an immediate refund of Eighty-Five ($85) Dollars, which amount represents a partial payment on the magazine order I placed with your firm on June 10, 1983. On June 15, 1983, I cancelled the magazine order & subsequently received your "Speed Letter" response which indicated "...cancellations must be made in writing or by wire to this office within three business days of the date of the sale". This cancellation requirement is unfair, discriminatory and ludicrous. If I do not hear from you by Sept. 5, 1983, I will take further action.

Sincerely, Mr. H.

RESOLUTION:
On Sept. 10, 1983, Mr. H. received a check from the magazine company in the amount of $85.

A HUMOROUS APPROACH TO JOB HUNTING !!
Dear Letter Writer:
I want you to write two letters of recommendation for a very dear friend of mine. Please make one serious and on the level and please write another just as a joke. I want to give her the latter first and get her reaction.

Sincerely, Mr. T.

To Whom It May Concern:
I have known Ms. M. for 4+ years, both professionally and socially.

Professionally there is no end to her ability to infiltrate companies and ultimately put them out of business. She will stop at nothing to sabotage and "bad mouth" the organization for which she works. Her espionage capabilities are unsurpassed and she is a premeditated liar. With Ms. M., embezzlement is an art form.

Socially, she is a total embarrassment. At a business gathering or cocktail party, Ms. M. can always be counted on to become totally inebriated and behave in the most perverse way. She will always willingly cause problems among those present and is a master at creating dissension.

Ms. M. talks like a trucker and incorporates four-letter words into her daily conversation. She is able to tell people off with the most objectionable and illiterate language known to man.

She is reliably and regularly late for work and totally uncooperative on the job.

If you are looking for people with socially unacceptable personalities and borderline criminal methodology applications, Ms. M. is your gal.

In sum, she is a disaster and cannot be trusted with the simplest of tasks.

Sincerely, Ms. T.

RESOLUTION:
During these days of high unemployment, it was fun to have a little fun and laugh about a very serious subject.

pionships recently by Jessie Adams and Michelle Leitao.

Adams, a 17-year-old senior, earned the opportunity to compete at the state level by placing eight in Class B regional competition on Oct. 29.

Leitao, a sophomore, finished a very respectable 15th among some of the very best girl cross country runners in Class B high schools in this region.

The Huron High School Fall Awards Banquet will be held on Nov. 28 at 6 p.m. in the Renton Junior High School Cafeteria. Award presentations will take place at the following locations after the banquet: Football and Cheerleaders — Junior High Cafeteria; Golf — High School Library; Cross Country — High School Lecture Hall and Girls Basketball — High School Auditorium.

New Boston Rotary seeks candidates for scholarships

The Rotary Club of New Boston is seeking young men and women candidates for study abroad in 1985-86.

In 1983, nearly 1,300 persons worldwide received one of five types of educational scholarships presented by the Rotary Foundation. Each award includes round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses for one academic year, and funds for intensive language training, if necessary.

The foundation's educational awards include:

- Graduate scholarships for those who have received a bachelor's degree or equivalent and are between the ages of 20 and 28; may be married.
- Undergraduate scholarships for those with a minimum of two years of university level work and are between the ages of 18 and 24; must not be married.
- Vocational scholarships for those with a secondary education and at least two years working experience and are between the ages of 21 and 50; may be married; may not be qualified for undergraduate or graduate scholarships.
- Vocational scholarships for teachers of the handicapped who have been engaged as full-time teachers of the mentally, physically, or educationally handicapped for at least two years at the time of application and are between the ages of 25 and 50; may be married.
- Journalism scholarship — must be between the ages of 21 and 50 inclusive as of the club application deadline. Must have completed two years of full-time employment as a professional journalist and be at least a secondary school graduate at the time of the club application deadline.

In 1947 Rotary Foundation started its program of sending young adults abroad to contribute to international understanding as "ambassadors of goodwill." Since that time, the Foundation has awarded more than one hundred million dollars for its various programs. More than 20,000 young men and women have gone to countries other than their own for a year of study.

As a nonprofit organization, the Rotary Foundation is supported by voluntary contributions from Rotarians, Rotary Clubs, and friends of Rotary in 157 different countries. The completed application must be received by the local Rotary Club not later than Thursday, March 1, 1984.

County deficit will soar to $45 million

"The County Executive hit the ground running—as promised—and has left a $43 million skid mark", was the way Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning described a recent report by the Auditor General indicating this year's deficit will be the greatest in the County's 187 year history.

According to the Auditor General, last year's deficit was $97.9 million and this year's will be $141.4 million. "At this rate," commented Manning, "the CEO's 5-year plan is rapidly becoming a 28 year plan."

Manning, Chairman of the Audit Committee, along with Commissioners Samuel A. Turner and Arthur M. Carter, reviewed the report submitted by Lester Robinson, Auditor General, concerning the County Executive's Third Quarter financial statement, Thursday. Robinson termed the statement incomplete and useless.

"It doesn't tell us a thing concerning deficiencies, results on anticipated savings in areas of labor costs, indigent care, or what the various departments are doing to get us back into budget," Robinson pointed out. These actions should have reduced expenses, but this statement is not clear what the impact will be."

"I think Mr. Robinson should reduce to writing the kinds of clarification he needs from the CEO then submit the request to the Committee of the Whole for direction," Turner suggested. "The Commissioners have a responsibility to get the facts. This report is useless and we should put the Auditor General's request in the form of a resolution so the CEO's Office will know exactly what we want."

"The Charter already spells out what is required", noted Carter.

"Well, we got the First Quarterly Report and it was useless, the Second Quarterly Report was too late and this statement is not complete," Manning said. "December 1st (start of the fiscal year) is right around the corner."

"We need to know if the CEO and the Commission are speaking the same language," Turner interjected and we need to know how quickly the CEO can get us an understandable statement."

Committee members asked that Robinson prepare his recommendations for a clearer statement and submit them in time for the next Committee of the Whole Agenda.

Robinson's report on the statement included a number of complaints from not providing a summary of expenditures and encumbrances to failing to report savings from the four-day-week program. He also said the statement failed to estimate expenditures for Recorder's Court

Greedy gas station proprietors cashing in on driver ignorance

By JEFF JUTERBOCK
ANP Special Writer

A few years ago, gasohol — a mixture of gasoline and about 10 percent or less of alcohol made from corn — was touted in some areas as a cheap, high-octane alternative to regular gasolines. Now there's another such fuel — gas spiked with methanol, and the state attorney general is working to get that one off the market.

In a release dated Oct. 20, Frank Kelley, attorney general of Michigan, listed 22 Michigan gasoline retailers who, he said, would face lawsuits if they don't halt sales of the blend, or label it in a more satisfactory manner. Kelley says he is against the fuel for two reasons: One, the consumer buying it usually isn't aware the gasoline isn't pure gas; and two, that the methanol additive can cause problems in the cars, mainly in the fuel system.

Kelley claimed that the dealers knowingly sold the fuel for one reason: greed. He said the additive was about 50 percent cheaper than gasoline.

The dealers were given 10 days to respond to the charges.

According to Michael Shore, Kelley's administrative assistant, all but three have responded by verbally agreeing to stop selling the gas or use sufficient labelling. The attorney general's office hasn't got certified mail receipts for those other three, so they may not have received the original notices.

Shore said there may be one or two who decide that they want to fight this in court. In that case, Kelley will file lawsuits, ask a court to block the sales of the controversial gas, and seek civil penalties of up to $25,000. Shore said if the dealer responds, "All they have to do is agree not to sell the methanol-spiked gasoline."

Kelley listed potential problems with the gas as: phase separation, which will create water in the fuel system in cold weather; vapor lock, which will cause starting problems; damage to the fuel delivery system; deterioration of some car finishes due to the solvent action of the methanol and other problems.

"Methanol has a natural antagonism toward metal. It's not a burning fuel. In a conventional engine, it just ruins all the metal," Kelley said.

Carol Smith, senior research engineer in Ford Motor Company's turbine and alternative fuels research department, said the methanol is more corrosive than gasoline and it would strip parts and surface finishes away that gasoline wouldn't touch. She also said that methanol was a natural antagonist of metal.

Service garages contacted differed on what damage could result.

Butch Nye, service advisor at Shaheen Chevrolet, 3901 S. Logan, said they had handled a few cases of repairs on cars for methanol use.

"What we found in most cases, that if they (car owners) change gases, the problem goes away," he said.

Richard Davis, service manager and certified mechanic at Action Auto, 636 E. Michigan, says they've handled "probably 25-30" in the last six months. He said that the methanol eats holes in the rubber parts of the carburetor and the customer ends up spending about $100 for a rebuilt carburetor."

"It doesn't (do) fuel pumps any good. Autos are not designed for methanol, they're designed for gas with a lubricant. Race cars are designed for methanol, and they're torn down after every race," he explained.

Mike Botsford, service advisor at Curtis Ford, 3003 E. Michigan, said the dealer hasn't done any repairs for methanol problems yet.

Pete Schultz, one owner of University Foreign Car, 2621 E. Kalamazoo, didn't keep records of how many cars they fixed after methanol use, but said it was more frequent during the summer months this year. He added that most of the cars they repaired had fuel injection. Some repairs involved fixing the fuel pump and/or fuel distributor — two of the most expensive parts in the car's fuel system.

"We did some repairs and advised them (the car owners) to stay away from methanol. It's not very good on fuel injection systems," Schultz said.

Kelley had charged that the retailers violated five sections of the state's consumer protection act, and these were basically misrepresentation of the product, and failure to disclose certain facts about the product, thereby deceiving or misleading the consumer.

"Every gallon of methanol used to dilute gasoline means larger profit margins, all illegal competitive advantage over law-abiding dealers," Kelley said.

Five of the 31 notices were sent to the Convenience King chain, a self-serve gas and food operation with locations in Jackson and Brooklyn, Michigan.

Ray McQuillan, legal counsel for Convenience King, an attorney in Jackson, said the chain isn't disputing the fact that it sold the gas, but the claim that their gas was illegal. McQuillan said that the gas they sold was called Methablend, made by a firm called Future Fuels of Mid-America and registered with the EPA.

McQuillan said the methanol-gas was sometimes sold from the Convenience King pumps, and the stores got it because they shared bulk gas storage with another gas marketer. He also said that Convenience King's owner also bought gas containing ethanol from time-to-time.

He added that the stores now do have a disclosure on the pumps listing the pros and cons of using the fuel, as well as the percentage of alcohol content. The warnings also tell customers not to use the fuels in chain saws and other small engines.

McQuillan says he's requested a hearing with the attorney general's office under the consumer protection act.

"(There's a) connotation from the newspapers and radio that we're selling illegal gas — that's not true, McQuillan said.

Drake Refineries was also notified of the possible action by Kelley. Michael Drake, the owner, refused further comment beyond an earlier comment he made in the Lansing State Journal.

The story in the State Journal quoted a Drake spokesman as saying that the company had sold gasoline with a methanol additive, but it had posted notices on the pumps and had stayed within industry guidelines on the use of the additive. However, the same story reported that Kelley's report showed Drake had too much methanol in the tanks, as checked by Department of Agriculture inspectors.

Belleville's Johnson is knighted

Paul C. Johnson of 7752 Kirkridge, Belleville, has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour, it was reported today. This honorary degree, highest in the York Rite of Freemasonry, is conferred only on those who have held the highest office in each of the four bodies of the rite.

Johnson becomes one of the comparative handful of about 400 of the over four and a quarter million Freemasons in North America, the Philippines and Australia to qualify this year. Membership is by invitation only.

Johnson served as Master of Manchester Lodge of Masons in 1981, High Priest of Mount Clemens Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 19; Master of Saginaw Council Royal and Select Masters in 1974; Commander of Alpena Commandery, Knight Templar, in 1973. He was elected to membership in Michigan. Priory and his election confirmed by Convent General of the Order on October 21. There are sixty-eight Priors of the Order with a present membership of 11,800.

Johnson served as Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, of Michigan in 1981-82.
